

Rival Guatemalan Chieftains Haggle Over Terms For Peace

SAN SALVADOR (AP) — Guatemala's rival anti-Communist chieftains haggled until nearly dawn today in a vain effort to agree on a peace settlement which would give their war-split land its fourth government in a week.

The peace talks between rebel Col. Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Eliego Monzon, head of Guatemala's new governing junta, broke up at 3:35 a. m. Armas announced he was returning to his rebel headquarters at Chiquimula.

In a statement issued to newsmen, both leaders said they were extending until 9 a. m. tomorrow the cease-fire in effect between the rebels and the Guatemalan army.

El Salvador's President Oscar Osorio, acting as mediator, voiced optimism that a settlement could be reached.

But real peace seemed remote as Monzon's junta rushed reports to Communist strong points in Guatemala where vengeful Red leaders were reported trying to foment peasant uprisings.

Red-indoctrinated farm workers were said to be inciting revolt in Escuintla, Pinula and Concepcion, hotbeds of communism about 30 miles from Guatemala City.

Monzon declined to say whether he was returning to the Guatemalan capital, but it was believed generally he would.

The joint statement said the cease-fire had been extended "in order to give both parties time to consider and study various proposals to reach an accord."

Neither side would disclose what proposals were involved nor what points cause disagreement.

After the two colonels held their initial two-hour secret session last evening, Osorio told newsmen: "I feel very optimistic. I believe they will find a formula."

Later the conferees dined together in Loma Linda, palatial home of Rafael Meza Ayau, Salvadorean economics minister and a beer baron.

After dinner they reconvened in Osorio's presidential mansion. Shortly after midnight El Salvador's presidential press officer said Armas and Monzon had gotten down to terms which promised to lead to a definite settlement.

As the parley continued, word came out of the conference that terms of the settlement would be broadcast by the Guatemalan government and rebel radios.

El Salvador offered its good offices to settle the Guatemalan conflict after a cease-fire Tuesday ended the shooting—in theory at least.

Osorio said the junta government had asked him to mediate, but that the United States was taking no part in the talks since it had not asked to mediate. However, U. S. Ambassador Michael McDermott met the two Guatemalan leaders when they arrived.

Showdown Near As GOP Leaders Seek Accord

Compromise Parity Setup Hinted In Try To Find Harmony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-Administration farm forces put on an early show of strength today as the House beat down a proposal to deny peanut growers further mandatory high price supports for their crops.

By an unrecorded vote of 159 to 121, the House rejected an amendment by Rep. Vursell (R-Ill.) to strike peanuts from the list of basic farm commodities entitled to rigid government supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Preceded by hot debate, the House action was a preliminary to an impending showdown over the politically explosive Eisenhower farm program and its provision for lower price props during periods of surplus.

Because of heavy peanut surpluses under the existing farm program, high-support backers had viewed the peanut situation as a weak point in their battle with the Administration.

Neither the President nor Secretary of Agriculture Benson, however, had asked for exclusion of peanuts from basic crops entitled to support at 90 per cent of parity.

The big six basic crops are corn, wheat, cotton, peanuts, rice and tobacco.

GOP LEADERS were reported ready to offer a compromise amendment proposing a one-year pilot program fixing the price level at 82½ per cent to 85 per cent of parity.

This would compare with the House bill calling for another year (Continued on Page Two)

Nation's Phone Installers Get Walkout Call

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventeen thousand CIO workers who install and maintain telephone equipment were called on strike across the nation today but a delay in picketing eased any immediate threat of crippled phone communications.

In previous strikes, failure of long distance telephone operators to cross picket lines has caused difficulties.

However, dial phones and automatic equipment could continue to operate for some time before needing attention or repairs.

The CIO Communications Workers Union announced shortly after 6 a. m. that "the strike is on."

In New York it was also announced that the present plan of the equipment installers is to delay picketing telephone buildings around the nation until next Tuesday morning. But an official said this plan was "subject to change."

The strike was called after a breakdown in negotiations between the CWA's district 10, and the Western Electric Co., which is the manufacturing arm of American Telephone and Telegraph.

The union is seeking a new work contract with various benefits, and the breakup in contract talks dashed hopes of a last-minute settlement hinging on an increased wage offer from Western Electric.

The walkout could cripple the nation's telephone system. It affects telephone operations in 44 states and the District of Columbia. Only states not involved are Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Wyoming.

Truman Expected To Gain Rapidly

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman's doctors say they now expect him to make continued progress in recovering from his operation and its after effects.

Even the former President is reported expressing some impatience with his stay in Research Hospital.

Truman's gall bladder and appendix were removed June 20. He appeared to be making a remarkable recovery for a few days. Then he suffered a setback because of secondary infections and unfavorable reaction to certain drugs.

Mental Patient, 54, Dies In Duel With 200 Policemen

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A 54-year-old man on convalescent leave from a mental hospital fought a death duel with 200 policemen in his West Side home yesterday and wounded eight officers before he was killed.

When the gunfire finally was still, the body of Howard Ellis lay behind a bookcase barricade, riddled by 26 bullets. His frame house was splintered by thousands of rounds of ammunition.

Ellis' wife, Lela, first reported his rage, suffered minor wounds in the left leg and left hand.

One patrolman, Paul White, 39, was in critical condition with wounds in the chest and neck.

Two others were listed in serious condition. They were Dora Ward, 27, shot in the head, and Marlin Lyon, 39, shot in the right side. Lt. Paul Pearcey, 60, was in fair condition. Four others were released after treatment for less serious wounds.

FIVE FOSTER children who had been placed in the Ellis home by the Welfare Department fled from the house before the shooting started and were not harmed.

Central State Hospital said Ellis had been on leave for a year and a half and had been checked by monthly reports. The hospital said his June report was the most favorable since his release.

Mrs. Ellis said the trouble started when Ellis beat one of the foster children wards. She threatened to call the hospital and have him committed, and he chased her from the house. She called the hospital and police from a neighbor's home, then started to return home.

That was when Ellis started shooting, wounding her. She fled.

U.S. Pressing For Creation Of Asia Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed on today for early creation of an anti-Communist pact in Southeast Asia while hailing a victory over international communism in Guatemala.

Secretary of State Dulles, cautioning that "communism is still a menace everywhere," pledged the support of the United States yesterday to the people of Guatemala in their efforts to build a "prosperous and progressive" and non-Communist nation.

Several hours earlier, the U. S. joined Australia and New Zealand in a declaration that there is "need for immediate action" to bring about establishment of a collective defense in Southeast Asia.

The three nations are signers of a mutual defense treaty. Dulles met yesterday with Australia's Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey and New Zealand's Ambassador Leslie Munro. Together they form a council set up by the "Anzus" pact, which takes its name from initials of the three countries.

Their declaration went beyond the agreement on a Southeast Asian collective defense announced Monday by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Churchill. The latter two said they would press forward with plans to secure Southeast Asia against communism whether the war in Indochina is ended or continues.

ASHVILLE MAN KILLED, DRIVER HELD IN CRASH

Beauty Events Add Sparkle To 4th Program

Both Events Slated For Saturday To Open Celebration

Most of the district's beautiful women—from the age of three up—are planning to be in Ashville this coming week-end.

Two beauty contests are among the top features slated for Pickaway County's big Fourth of July program, held traditionally by Ashville. Elaborate preparations have been made for this year's activities, opening Saturday afternoon and ending at midnight Monday.

The first parade and beauty contest—starting at 2 p. m. Saturday—will be for girls aged from three up to and including second grade, contestants for the title of Little Miss Fourth of July. The second contest, for girls aged 16 to 30, will be held Saturday evening.

Winner of the latter event, which also includes a parade, will lead the program's big parade on Monday morning as Miss Fourth of July of 1954.

BOTH THE beauty events are being sponsored by the Ashville Community Club, key organization in the planning for this year's record festivities.

In addition to the Little Miss Fourth of July parade and beauty contest, a carnival dance and fish fry are scheduled for Saturday. On Sunday, top features will be a Western Horse Show and Rodeo, rides and a fish fry.

Then the last and biggest day—Monday—starts rolling with the main parade at 11 a. m.

A carnival and fish fry will continue through the day and well into the night at Community Park. A band concert is slated for 1 p. m., and the big dance on the last night starts at 8:30 p. m.

A bang-crack display of fireworks will ring down the curtain in a blaze of Fourth of July glory at midnight. Residents from all over Pickaway County and many of the adjoining regions were planning to attend the big gathering.

Russia Seen Using Peaceful A-Energy To Outsmart U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia might be able to use a lead in atomic industrial power development as a lever to outmaneuver the United States in the cold war between Communism and the free world.

American atomic officials contemplated this prospect today in light of the Soviet's claim to have put into operation a nuclear power plant with a 5,000-kilowatt electrical power output.

While there was no immediate official confirmation of the announcement made by Moscow radio yesterday, there also was no disposition to deny that the Russians had succeeded in getting an atomic power plant into operation. Experts here well remembered the success of the Reds in producing a nuclear fission explosion in 1949—several years before the time generally predicted.

Those who look upon peaceful use of atomic power as an instrument of national policy contend:

GOP Chieftain Fires At Lausche

ZANESVILLE (AP) — Republican campaign strategy for the November elections will aim at "exploding the independence myth of Gov. Lausche," Ray C. Bliss said here last night.

Bliss Republican state chairman, addressed the first of a series of campaign strategy meetings attended by 25 leaders of the 15th congressional district.

He said Lausche's appointment of Sen. Burke, a Democrat, and the naming of "all but a handful" of Democrats in filling 110 judgeships during the eight years he has been in office shows Lausche is not independent.

District Ends June 1.37 Inch Short On Rain

After a good start and building up nearly a half-inch margin around the middle of the month, the Circleville district ended up more than one and one-third inches short of normal rainfall for June.

The brief but heavy downpour here Wednesday evening was figured at .01 inch by local weather observers. And that gave the local area a total accumulation of 2.80 inches for the month. River level Thursday was 1.89 feet.

However, normal June rainfall for this locality, according to data compiled especially for The Herald by the weather bureau in Columbus, is 4.17 inches. And that figures out to a deficiency of 1.37 inch in rainfall for the city area last month.

The lagging trend in local precipitation extends back to the beginning of the year, and far be (Continued on Page Two)

Ex-FHA Official Refuses To Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — A suspended FHA official refused today to answer questions about girlie parties and fishing trips to Mexico asked by senators probing the government's housing programs.

The suggestion in the questions was that he had pressured contractors into putting on the parties.

Andrew Frost, suspended last Friday as assistant FHA director for New Mexico, stood on his constitutional right not to be a witness against himself.

ceeds in building practical atomic power plants capable of being assembled in components and shipped overseas will have an instrument to offer power-poor nations such as those of southeast and southern Asia, the Middle East and North Africa.

If Russia should be ready first for the building and export of such plants, they say, she would have a good bargain to offer small nations which might be wavering between the East and West.

This is one of the arguments of those who urge a speed-up in the United States' atomic industrial power development program, to telescope into something less than five years what they say would otherwise be a 10-year period needed to get nuclear power on a satisfactory, going basis.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, said yesterday the Russian claim underlined a new need for amending the Atomic Energy Act to facilitate power development.

Defiance Holiness Church Protests Richards' Rites

DEFIANCE (AP) — The Gospel Temple here, by a large majority vote, has withdrawn from the International Holiness Tabernacle Assn. of Cincinnati, which yesterday ordained Joseph C. Richards.

The Rev. Elis Morrell, Gospel Temple pastor, indicated the action was taken due to the ordainment of Richards.

Members also voted to start machinery in motion for affiliation with the Evangelistic Methodist Church.

Richards is the central figure in a Defiance St. Paul Methodist Church controversy with the Ohio Methodist Conference. He was ordained in the church here as a "minister of the Gospel."

He received his credentials from the International Holiness Tabernacle Assn., with offices in Cincinnati.

The presentation was made by the Rev. W. T. Stone, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church here.

Richards said the invitation to accept the ordination was on the recommendation of the Rev. Paul Lucas of Springfield, who is superintendent of the western district of the Pilgrim Holiness Church.

Richards said the action "clothed him with all the authority as minister, so that he can perform

14 Carriers Of Herald Receive $50 Bonuses For Year Service

To a lot of people in Pickaway County, Thursday was just another one of those sizzling warm days. But for 13 boys and one girl—carriers for The Circleville Herald—the world was riding high and the future was full of 101 great days.

The 14 carriers drew bonuses of $50 each for having served the newspaper for a full year. It was the first bonus distribution on that basis since the plan was first established by The Herald last July 1.

It will continue to be one of the attractions for Herald carriers, as others will become eligible for the award at later dates. The 14 carriers who drew bonuses Thursday represent only a part of the carrier force.

Meanwhile, the lucky ones who lined up Thursday morning for their $50 bonus payments are already looking forward to next year when they stand to draw the same amount again. Many of the first eligibles have savings accounts that would stir the envy of adult wage-earners.

New Arab-Jew Trouble Flares In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Firing broke out again for the second time in 24 hours today over the Arab-Israeli borderlines in this Holy City.

Both sides admitted casualties and said they had asked U. N. armistice observers to check the "aggression" they charged to the other.

An Israeli army spokesman said that Jordanians posted on top of the old city walls overlooking Israel's sector of the city opened fire with rifles, machineguns and mortars at 5:30 a. m.

One Jewish woman was killed and three other persons wounded, he said. Eight other persons were reported wounded in the Jewish section by firing which lasted for an hour last night.

In Amman, the Jordan government charged that bombs from the Israeli section of Jerusalem fell near the British and American consulates.

One Arab legion soldier was wounded during the night, it said. Neutral reports said both sides used heavy mortars in the firing.

Former Mayor Of Ashville, 90, Accident Victim

Pennsylvania Man Is To Be Charged With Manslaughter

George A. Hook, 90, of N. Long St., Ashville, a former mayor there, died at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday as the result of a two-car head-on collision 1.5 miles north of Circleville on Route 23. A charge of second degree manslaughter is being prepared against the injured driver of the second car, 42-year old William Harpster of Harrisburg, Pa. Another charge of driving left of center is also being readied.

Hook was a passenger in a north-bound car driven by his son, Floyd W. Hook, 33, of the same Ashville address. Floyd is in satisfactory condition in Berger Hospital with a skull fracture and facial lacerations.

Harpster, driver of the south-bound car, suffered severe fracture of his left hip and had multiple lacerations. He was described by the hospital as also being in satisfactory condition.

First on the scene of the 2:30 p. m. accident were Deputy Sheriffs Carl Radcliff and Walter Richards, closely followed by State Patrolmen Bob Greene and Carl Wolfinger. Their reports show Harpster's car wheels traveled six inches from the berm on the opposite side of the highway across a yellow line.

According to Deputy Radcliff, Harpster had been to Columbus seeking a job. He had recently left a job in Orchard Park, N. Y. He had taken a room early Wednesday morning in the American Hotel in Circleville and had gone to Columbus later that morning.

The Hooks were on their way home to Ashville from Circleville. Floyd Hook told Patrolman Greene he saw Harpster's car too late. Skid marks on the highway indicated Hook started to turn to the right to avoid the accident.

George Hook had seven fractures, according to hospital attendants. Both his arms and his left leg were fractured. According to Dr. Henry Swope, who attended him, Hook went into severe shock and died almost seven hours after being brought in to the hospital. Whole blood, which had been ordered from Columbus for Hook, arrived too late at 10:10 p. m. by bus.

Harpster told Deputy Radcliff he didn't know what happened until the cars hit. He said he had not been passing any cars at the time and could not account for the fact that he was on the wrong side of the road and over a yellow line.

Patrolman Greene said Harpster told him he had been tired. There was no evidence of drinking involved, according to authorities.

Another Liquor Agent Suspended

COLUMBUS (AP) — Suspension of an enforcement agent was ordered by the State Liquor Department yesterday in one of the latest developments of a statewide department investigation of alleged "shakedown."

Erskine Carter of Youngstown was suspended after questioning by enforcement chief Edward J. Allen and local prosecutors.

They said he solicited "financial aid" from Frank Banks, operator of Banks Grill in Delaware. Banks signed a statement naming at least two department agents he claimed collected "protection" money from him.

First Harvest Of Wheat Crop

First report of harvested wheat brought to the Circleville area is reported as excellent. Richards Implement Co. said they received a shipment Wednesday from Jake and Joe Scharenberg and Clarence Helvering.

The wheat was judged exceptionally dry. Moisture content was listed at 12½ percent.

The wheat weighed 62 pounds to the bushel.

U.S. Pressing For Creation Of Asia Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed on today for early creation of an anti-Communist pact in Southeast Asia while hailing a victory over international communism in Guatemala.

Secretary of State Dulles, cautioning that "communism is still a menace everywhere," pledged the support of the United States yesterday to the people of Guatemala in their efforts to build a "prosperous and progressive" and non-Communist nation.

Ellis retreated to the house and the siege began. His wife said she had no idea where he got his shotgun, rifle and huge supply of ammunition.

Ellis kept up a heavy fire. Finally an armored car roared up to the back door, and three heavily armed officers leaped through the door and ended the battle.

"It just had to be that way," Mrs. Ellis said softly when they told her at General Hospital that her husband was dead.

Lawn-Mowing Argument Stalls Divorce Action

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Wanda Cholewa, 35, got a home, custody of her three children and $28 a week for their support.

ZANESVILLE (AP) — Republican campaign strategy for the November elections will aim at "exploding the independence myth of Gov. Lausche," Ray C. Bliss said here last night.

Bliss, Republican state chairman, addressed the first of a series of campaign strategy meetings attended by 25 leaders of the 15th congressional district.

He said Lausche's appointment of Sen. Burke, a Democrat, and the naming of "all but a handful" of Democrats in filling 110 judgeships during the eight years he has been in office shows Lausche is not independent.

District Ends June 1.37 Inch Short On Rain

After a good start and building up nearly a half-inch margin around the middle of the month, the Circleville district ended up more than one and one-third inches short of normal rainfall for June.

The brief but heavy downpour here Wednesday evening was figured at .01 inch by local weather observers. And that gave the local area a total accumulation of 2.80 inches for the month. River level Thursday was 1.89 feet.

However, normal June rainfall for this locality, according to data compiled especially for The Herald by the weather bureau in Columbus, is 4.17 inches. And that figures out to a deficiency of 1.37 inch in rainfall for the city area last month.

The lagging trend in local precipitation extends back to the beginning of the year, and far beyond.

Ex-FHA Official Refuses To Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — A suspended FHA official refused today to answer questions about girlie parties and fishing trips to Mexico asked by senators probing the government's housing programs.

The suggestion in the questions was that he had pressured contractors into putting on the parties.

Andrew Frost, suspended last Friday as assistant FHA director for New Mexico, stood on his constitutional right not to be a witness against himself.

FIRST IN the happy line Thursday was Ralph Isaac, who came early enough to discuss his economic theories and tell how he has already built up a savings of approximately $400. He has a 150 cc. motor bike and keeps himself in clothes and spending money.

When 13 boys and the girl carrier, Betty White, stepped up to get their money, special screening of the applicants proved necessary. Carriers who are not yet eligible—along with staff workers well above the carrier age limit—edged too close to the scene of operations. They said they understood it was a general public idea, to be repeated weekly.

Those who drew $50 bonuses were: Galen Schelb of Circleville Route 3; Gail Wolfe, 140 Pleasant St.; Dale Wolfe, 140 Pleasant St.; Ralph Isaac, 701 E. Mound St.; Gary Grooms, 629 E. Mound St.; Betty White 147 E. Mill St.; John Troutman, 155 E. Union St.; Paul Hang, 128 W. Union St.; Harry Strawser, 228 Logan St.; Richard Fyfe, 724 Maplewood Ave.; Bob Fyfe, 724 Maplewood Ave.; Robert McKenzie, 416 S. Washington St.; Roger Southward, 486 E. New Arab-Jew Trouble Flares In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Firing broke out again for the second time in 24 hours today over the Arab-Israeli borderlines in this Holy City.

Both sides admitted casualties and said they had asked U. N. armistice observers to check the "aggression" they charged to the other.

An Israeli army spokesman said that Jordanians posted on top of the old city walls overlooking Israel's sector of the city opened fire with rifles, machineguns and mortars at 5:30 a. m.

One Jewish woman was killed and three other persons wounded, he said. Eight other persons were reported wounded in the Jewish section by firing which lasted for an hour last night.

In Amman, the Jordan government charged that bombs from the Israeli section of Jerusalem fell near the British and American consulates.

One Arab legion soldier was wounded during the night, it said. Neutral reports said both sides used heavy mortars in the firing.

Defiance Holiness Church Protests Richards' Rites

DEFIANCE (AP) — The Gospel Temple here, by a large majority vote, has withdrawn from the International Holiness Tabernacle Assn. of Cincinnati, which yesterday ordained Joseph C. Richards.

The Rev. Ellis Morrell, Gospel Temple pastor, indicated the action was taken due to the ordainment of Richards.

Members also voted to start machinery in motion for affiliation with the Evangelistic Methodist Church.

Richards is the central figure in a Defiance St. Paul Methodist Church controversy with the Ohio Methodist Conference. He was ordained in the church here as a "minister of the Gospel."

He received his credentials from the International Holiness Tabernacle Assn., with offices in Cincinnati.

The presentation was made by the Rev. W. T. Stone, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church here. Richards said the invitation to accept the ordination was on the recommendation of the Rev. Paul Lucas of Springfield, who is superintendent of the western district of the Pilgrim Holiness Church.

Richards said the action "clothed him with all the authority as minister, so that he can perform

14 Carriers Of Herald Receive $50 Bonuses For Year Service

To a lot of people in Pickaway County, Thursday was just another one of those sizzling warm days. But for 13 boys and one girl—carriers for The Circleville Herald—the world was riding high and the future was full of 101 great days.

The 14 carriers drew bonuses of $50 each for having served the newspaper for a full year. It was the first bonus distribution on that basis since the plan was first established by The Herald last July 1.

It will continue to be one of the attractions for Herald carriers, as others will become eligible for the award at later dates. The 14 carriers who drew bonuses Thursday represent only a part of the carrier force.

Meanwhile, the lucky ones who lined up Thursday morning for their $50 bonus payments are already looking forward to next year when they stand to draw the same amount again. Many of the first eligibles have savings accounts that would stir the envy of adult wage-earners.

First Harvest Of Wheat Crop

FIRST report of harvested wheat brought to the Circleville area is reported as excellent. Richards Implement Co. said they received a shipment Wednesday from Jake and Joe Scharenberg and Clarence Helvering.

The wheat was judged exceptionally dry. Moisture content was listed at 12½ per cent.

The wheat weighed 62 pounds to the bushel.

Former Mayor Of Ashville, 90, Accident Victim

Pennsylvania Man Is To Be Charged With Manslaughter

George A. Hook, 90, of N. Long St., Ashville, a former mayor there, died at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday as the result of a two-car head-on collision 1.5 miles north of Circleville on Route 23. A charge of second degree manslaughter is being prepared against the injured driver of the second car, 42-year-old William Harpster of Harrisburg, Pa. Another charge of driving left of center is also being readied.

Hook was a passenger in a north-bound car driven by his son, Floyd W. Hook, 33, of the same Ashville address. Floyd is in satisfactory condition in Berger Hospital with a skull fracture and facial lacerations.

Harpster, driver of the south-bound car, suffered severe fracture of his left hip and had multiple lacerations. He was described by the hospital as also being in satisfactory condition.

First on the scene of the 2:30 p. m. accident were Deputy Sheriffs Carl Radcliff and Walter Richards, closely followed by State Patrolmen Bob Greene and Carl Wolfinger. Their reports show Harpster's car wheels traveled six inches from the berm on the opposite side of the highway across a yellow line.

ACCORDING to Deputy Radcliff, Harpster had been to Columbus seeking a job. He had recently left a job in Orchard Park, N. Y. He had taken a room early Wednesday morning in the American Hotel in Circleville and had gone to Columbus later that morning.

The Hooks were on their way home to Ashville from Circleville. Floyd Hook told Patrolman Greene he saw Harpster's car too late. Skid marks on the highway indicated Hook started to turn to the right to avoid the accident.

George Hook had seven fractures, according to hospital attendants. Both his arms and his left leg were fractured. According to Dr. Henry Swope, who attended him, Hook went into severe shock and died almost seven hours after being brought in to the hospital. Whole blood, which had been ordered from Columbus for Hook, arrived too late at 10:10 p. m. by bus.

Harpster told Deputy Radcliff he didn't know what happened until the cars hit. He said he had not been passing any cars at the time and could not account for the fact that he was on the wrong side of the road and over a yellow line.

Patrolman Greene said Harpster told him he had been tired. There was no evidence of drinking involved, according to authorities.

Another Liquor Agent Suspended

COLUMBUS (AP) — Suspension of an enforcement agent was ordered by the State Liquor Department yesterday in one of the latest developments of a statewide department investigation of alleged "shakedown."

Ersine Carter of Youngstown was suspended after questioning by enforcement chief Edward J. Allen and local prosecutors.

They said he solicited "financial aid" from Frank Banks, operator of Banks Grill in Delaware. Banks signed a statement naming at least two department agents he claimed collected "protection" money from him.

Indochina's Prize Falling To Red Rebels

French Abandoning Vietnamese Millions To Oncoming Commies

SINGAPORE (AP)—Much of the Red River Delta, key prize in the bitter Indochina war, was falling into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh tonight without a fight.

French Union forces were evacuating swiftly from their hard-to-hold centers in the Delta area. The end to the savage 8-year-old struggle appeared to be not far off.

The French Union forces were generally withdrawing to their last lifeline—the railway and highway linking the war capital of Hanoi with the seaport of Haiphong, 64 miles to the east.

An Indochina Dunkerque may come soon at the end of this road, "the most dangerous road in the world." Haiphong is France's last beachhead in northern Viet Nam. It is from there that they will have to make the attempt to evacuate tens of thousands of troops, whether as a result of a cease fire or after fighting their way through from Hanoi.

THE FRENCH today announced they were pulling out of such important and heavily populated centers as Phat Diem, Thai Binh, Nam Dinh, and Ninh Binh, all within 55 to 75 miles south and southeast of Hanoi.

That automatically meant an area embracing thousands of villages peopled by around four million Vietnamese were dropping into the hands of the troops of Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap.

It also meant that while these millions were being abandoned to communism, the French soon would be shakily controlling only the lifeline between Hanoi and Haiphong and a strip of territory in the northeastern Indochina including the town of Monday on the Chinese border.

That too, however, may soon be given up as the French concentrate all their defensive power in the do-or-die sector between Hanoi and Haiphong.

General Tax Relief Ruled Out This Year

Politicians Vote Down Rival Plans, Killing Chances For Revision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance for a general income tax cut in the big tax revision bill appeared dead today after rival Democratic and Republican proposals of both were beaten in a crossfire of political maneuvering.

The twin defeats assured the Eisenhower administration of a back door victory—enactment of the tax bill just about as recommended to Capitol Hill.

Senate passage may come late today after numerous minor amendments have been considered. The measure then will go to conference with the House, which has already OK'd the bill in somewhat different form.

Democrats professed to be not unhappy over the outcome of yesterday's rapid-fire moves over an income tax cut. They said failure to write some general benefits for the average taxpayer into the bill would give them a sure-fire issue in the November congressional elections campaign.

REPUBLICANS disputed this, contending yesterday's record would show they had offered a practical tax reduction plan but that Democrats blocked it.

As a result, both Democrats and Republicans can go home and tell their constituents that they voted for tax relief, but that the "opposition" killed the effort. Actually, the loser on both ballots was John Q. Taxpayer.

Leaders on both sides agreed there was practically no chance any new income tax cut plan would now be offered.

The principal fight yesterday centered on a proposal of Sen. George (D-Ga.) to write a $2.4 billion annual income tax cut into the bill by raising personal exemptions $100.

Several Republican senators had indicated they might go along on this. So Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), floor manager for the measure, called a secret caucus of all GOP senators and came up with a substitute tax plan for a $960 million annual reduction.

This would have given each taxpayer a $200 annual cut ($40 for a man and wife) provided they did not use certain benefits included in the revision bill.

The Republican proposal came up first as a substitute for the George plan and went down on a 49-46 vote, with all 47 Democrats opposed along with Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.) and Sen. Langer (R-ND).

THE 46 "AYES" were all from Republicans. The Democrats had to defeat the substitute in order to get a chance to vote on their own amendment.

But then the George amendment itself was beaten on an identical tally, 49-46. This time four Democrats, Byrd (Va.), Holland (Fla.), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.) and Robertson (Va.), voted "no" because they said the federal pocketbook couldn't stand the revenue loss. Joining George supporters were two Republicans, Langer and Young (ND), and Morse.

Hot Weather Still Continues

CHICAGO (AP)—Most of the nation got more hot weather today, but a fairly pleasant day was the outlook in parts of the country. Cooler air dropped temperatures in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valley regions from Missouri into North Dakota and eastward to the western Great Lakes region. The hot belt extended over the southern and south central states with temperatures again yesterday in the high 90s and a few 100 degrees or higher. It was an even 100 in Birmingham, Ala., New Orleans and Fort Worth, 101 in Jackson and 102 in Montgomery.

Fatal Tractor Mishap Probed

HILLSBORO (AP)—An investigation was being continued today of the death in a tractor-truck accident yesterday of Russell Spurgeon, 56, of near Fayetteville. Spurgeon's tractor, pulling an empty hay wagon, was hit by a tractor-trailer driven by Ralph H. Robinson, 40, of Marion, Va. The accident occurred about 14 miles east of here. Robinson was ordered held for investigation.

Officials Here Eye Shipment Of Fireworks

Local authorities Thursday were keeping a careful eye on a small shipment of fireworks received here recently by freight.

The shipment was being held at the Pennsylvania freight station, waiting for the claimant, who will have to have a fireworks permit before he will be allowed to take it. Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff and City Fire Chief Talmer Wise have both said they have issued no fireworks permits here so far.

The local express office said a man, identified only as Hugh Huffer, and a "Columbus man" whose name was not available, discussed the shipment last Saturday. They were told at that time, the agent here said, that they would have to get a permit in order to receive the fireworks.

LATER The shipment came here to the railroad freight office. The sheriff and fire chief said they had no information as to the intended destination of the package.

Austin Smith, Pennsylvania Railroad agent here, said the shipment would not be released unless a permit—either locally issued or from some other section—is produced.

District Ends June 1.37 Inch Short On Rain

yond. Slow but steady gains made by the drought represent one of the most critical problems facing America's farmers—and indirectly the nation.

EARLY IN June it appeared the Circleville district would enjoy an above-normal rainfall for June. By the end of June's first week, the local area was running nearly one-third inch ahead on the rainfall charts.

After a brief decline, a few heavy rains around the middle of the month provided a margin that rose to .45 inch above normal up to that day in June—the 16th. From that time on, however, the drought slowly tightened its dusty grip again on district farmlands, resulting in the month-end deficiency.

To provide a more accurate adjustment for the special charts made available to The Herald, the daily drought figures to "keep score" will be suspended until after the Fourth of July weekend.

Police Called To Dispose Of Rabid Pony

Paul Johnson, Circleville businessman, admitted Thursday that he probably won't be able to hold to his announcement that he's "through with keeping horses."

He made the comment earlier this week after city police were called to dispose of "Candy," a pet pony owned by the Johnsons and a particular favorite of Mary Anne, one of the Johnsons' three children. Veterinarians said the 42-inch black Shetland pony had become infected with rabies.

The infection presumably occurred about a month ago when the animal was on pasture near Circleville. Since that time, the pet has been acting strangely at the Johnson home on Woodlawn Drive, leading to the decision which caused Mary Anne to "cry and carry on."

"It's one of the worst experiences I ever ran into," Johnson explained. "In the past I've had many horses, but this was the last one we had—and we were keeping Candy just because she was such a great family pet."

"I said that's the end of keeping horses. But of course, you know the children. I'll probably change my mind."

Sgt. Turney Ross and Officer John Lockard were called to dispose of the animal, which had begun to chew at rocks, bite fenceposts and try to snap at anyone who passed near.

"She was in a bad way," Ross recalled. "The doctors said it was the only thing to do, and Mr. Johnson followed their advice. We carried out his wishes."

Ohio Edison Hit By Employee Strike

AKRON (AP)—CIO utility workers posted pickets today around all Ohio Edison properties here and in Youngstown, Toronto, Lorain, Warren, Shadyside, Marion and Mansfield.

The strike came last midnight while mayors of the affected cities met here with company and union officials in an attempt to avert the walkout. A union spokesman said a chief issue in the dispute was a union demand to continue a contract provision prohibiting the company from hiring outside contractors to do work normally done by union members. The union also seeks a 16-cent hourly pay boost and other benefits.

Showdown Near As GOP Leaders Seek Accord

of rigid high supports at 90 per cent of parity and the Eisenhower-backed plan of flexible supports at 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

The flexible program was defended by Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), who told the House "the only one who isn't being heard here today is the American consumer."

Gavin said high price supports are surplus-building and only "perpetuate constant waste." The House bills calls for continued high support for peanut growers, but with a gradual reduction in allowable acreage at the rate of 5 per cent a year until supply and consumption balance.

But farm state forces, including both Republicans and Democrats, were cool toward talk of compromise and gave signs of making a showdown fight for continued high price supports in the face of the President's opposition.

Both sides counted on the support of Northern big city members whose constituents are most interested in grocery store prices. A possible tipoff as to how the Northern vote might go was an announcement last night that the New York Democratic delegation would back high price supports.

NEW YORK Democrats, virtually all from New York City, said: "The best way to maintain the welfare of our cities is to sustain the purchasing power of the 30 million farmers."

Before the House was a bill recommended by the Agriculture Committee and calling for another year of price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices said by law to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs.

The administration backs a flexible scale in which supports would range from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Republican House Leader Hallett of Indiana said he favored a substitute for the high support section of the committee bill which would keep the minimum support level at 80 or 85 per cent of parity rather than 75.

"It would re-establish the principle of flexibility, but with a higher minimum parity figure," he declared.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he still backs his program for flexible supports, but he said he planned no new appeal to the House. There has been speculation he would veto an extension of 90 per cent props.

The administration argues that flexible supports would tend to stop the accumulation of surpluses, by lowering the support level when stocks are ample, and would stimulate production by raising supports in time of scarcity.

Representatives Hope (R-Kan.) and Cooley (D-NC), the chairman and senior minority member of the House Agriculture Committee, assailed these arguments.

Cooley said "a deliberate effort has been made by people in high places" to persuade the public the farm program has incurred huge losses. "The truth is the losses have not been burdensome."

Daytonian Admits Slaying Woman

XENIA (AP)—The body of a 37-year-old Dayton woman was identified last night and a few hours later police said a Dayton man confessed the slaying.

Chief Deputy James Ramsey said Howard Linden Fox, 38, who shared an apartment with Mrs. Jessie Mae Putnam, signed a confession in which he said:

"He beat Mrs. Putnam Saturday night in their apartment, woke up Sunday to find her dead, kept the body all day and then drove near Xenia and dumped the body by the road Sunday night. The woman's husband, Robert, identified the body. He told police he and Mrs. Putnam had been separated. Dayton police said Mrs. Putnam had a record which included adultery and prostitution."

Texas Flood Zone Declared To Be Major Disaster Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today declared the Rio Grande flood areas in Texas as a major disaster zone eligible for federal relief.

The amount of aid to be allotted will be fixed after a survey by the Civil Defense Administration.

The President acted on a request by Gov. Shivers of Texas who telegraphed the White House on two occasions early today.

Replying to these messages the President said:

"The devastating floods now occurring in Texas and Mexico are of deep concern to all of us, and the heart of the nation goes out to the suffering people in this area." At least 55 persons are dead in the Rio Grande river's most devastating flood in history, but the death toll might rise to disaster proportions.

In miserable Piedras Negras, Mexico, it was feared hundreds may have died in the collapsed adobe huts of the poor.

Of the counted dead, 38 were in Piedras Negras. Nearly 100 miles north of the river, at Ozona, Tex., one of the flash floods which fed Rio Grande's swollen stream Monday killed at least 16 others. Another died in a Pecos River flood.

Upstream at Del Rio, Tex., and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, and downstream at Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, there were few casualties and no deaths from the unprecedented flood. Adequate warnings and other safeguards plus organization paid off.

Here's How Ohio Voted On Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House yesterday passed, 260-125, a $3,368,608,000 foreign aid bill which was sent to the Senate for action. Ohio Republicans voting for the bill included Ayres, Bender, Frances Bolton, Oliver Bolton, Hess, Jenkins and Vorys. Ohio Democrats for were Crosser, Kirwan and Polk.

Republicans against: Betts, Bow, Brown, Cleveland, McCulloch, McGregor, Schenck and Scherer. Democrats against: None. Some 118 Republicans, one Independent, and 141 Democrats favored passage.

Large numbers of sick and injured were making their way toward makeshift hospitals last night in Piedras Negras. Sixty-five injured were in a temporary medical shelter, and more moved in every minute.

At least 15,000 were homeless and some 7,000 refugees huddled in the hills of Coahuila with no shelter, no food and no water. About 80 per cent of the homes in the city of 35,000 were flooded. Half of those were destroyed as the adobe brick crumbled in the flood.

Further search may bring a more startling toll of death. But the true death count conceivably may never be known.

"From what I hear, there may be anywhere from 200 to 500 dead," said H. G. Walker, U. S. Public Health Service official, helping in rescue and rehabilitation.

Indochina's Prize Falling To Red Rebels

French Abandoning Vietnamese Millions To Oncoming Commies

SINGAPORE (AP)—Much of the Red River Delta, key prize in the bitter Indochina war, was falling into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh tonight without a fight.

French Union forces were evacuating swiftly from their hard-to-hold centers in the Delta area. The end to the savage 8-year-old struggle appeared to be not far off.

The French Union forces were generally withdrawing to their last lifeline—the railway and highway linking the war capital of Hanoi with the seaport of Haiphong, 64 miles to the east.

An Indochina Dunkerque may come soon at the end of this road, "the most dangerous road in the world." Haiphong is France's last beachhead in northern Viet Nam. It is from there that they will have to make the attempt to evacuate tens of thousands of troops, whether as a result of a cease fire or after fighting their way through from Hanoi.

THE FRENCH today announced they were pulling out of such important and heavily populated centers as Phai Diem, Thai Binh, Nam Dinh, and Ninh Binh, all within 55 to 75 miles south and southeast of Hanoi.

That automatically meant an area embracing thousands of villages peopled by around four million Vietnamese were dropping into the hands of the troops of Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap.

It also meant that while these millions were being abandoned to communism, the French soon would be shakily controlling only the lifeline between Hanoi and Haiphong and a strip of territory in the northeastern Indochina including the town of Monday on the Chinese border.

That too, however, may soon be given up as the French concentrate all their defensive power in the do-or-die sector between Hanoi and Haiphong.

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans were in demand on the Board of Trade today but the rest of the market, except for July corn, tilted downward.

Buying in soybeans stemmed from smaller than expected deliveries of cash beans on July contracts and a Census Bureau report on Soybean crushing and stocks which was bullishly interpreted by the trade.

Wheat near noon was 1/4-1/2 lower, July $1.94 1/2, corn 1/4 lower to 1 cent higher, July $1.60 1/2, oats 1/4 to 1 cent lower, July 72 1/2, rye unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 98 1/2, soybeans 1 1/4-1/2 higher, July $3.71 1/2, and lard 2 to 52 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $15.52.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The meeting between President Eisenhower and Sir Winston Churchill, judging from the two statements they issued, looks like an American-British standoff, with both sides yielding a bit.

United action in Southeast Asia—which is what Secretary of State Dulles had been talking about—has been delayed. Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden wanted it delayed. But a nonaggression pact in Southeast Asia—which is what Eden had called for—seems to have been brushed aside. Dulles and his State Department wouldn't buy it.

For the rest, the two statements were mostly generalities upon which the United States and Britain had agreed long before the meetings which ended this week. Dulles' idea that got delayed—Just before the April 26 opening of the Geneva conference, which had been set up to discuss, among other things, an armistice in Indochina, Dulles rushed to the British.

The Communist-led Vietminh were kicking the French around in Indochina. Dulles urged the British to join the United States in united action to save Indochina. Eden didn't want any, he said, until he had a chance to see whether the Geneva conference could produce peace in Indochina. He didn't rule out the idea of a united action pact if Geneva failed.

Since the British wouldn't go to their aid, and the United States wouldn't either unless the British joined in, the French were left with the choice of fighting harder in Indochina or dickering with the Communists for peace. They dickered and still are. Meanwhile, the Vietminh forces in Indochina are trouncing the French.

The first Eisenhower-Churchill statement, which dealt with this problem, made clear the British and Americans were still unwilling to rush in to save Indochina. The statement said the United States and Britain would "press forward" with plans for united action: one kind of plan if the French didn't get an armistice, and another kind if they did.

This was so vague and indefinite as to timing that Eden, who wanted delay, seems to have had his way. Eden's idea that got pushed aside—

In 1925-26 Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Germany agreed at Locarno, Switzerland, they not only would not attack one another but would gang up on anyone who broke the agreement. Hitler broke it 10 years later by remilitarizing the Rhineland. When the others failed to stop him, the Locarno Pact dropped dead.

Just before coming here last week, Eden proposed a Locarno-type agreement for Southeast Asia. It would include the United States, Britain, France, the Southeast Asian countries, Russia and Communist China.

This startled and irritated the American State Department. Eden added to the irritation by calling for creation of his Asian Locarno before Britain signed any united action agreement with this country on Southeast Asia.

His proposal in effect called for the United States to reverse its attitude on Red China. By signing such an agreement, the United States in effect would be recognizing the Communists as the rightful rulers of China. This has refused to do. Besides, this country could hardly believe the Communists would live up to any such agreement when it suited them to break it.

The second Eisenhower-Churchill statement made no mention of Eden's Locarno idea. On the contrary, the statement said the United States and Britain would not be a party to any agreement that would "confirm or prolong" the "unwilling subordination" of any "sovereign state now in bondage."

Since the United States doesn't recognize the Communists as the legitimate government of China, it regards China as being in bondage. Churchill seemed pretty clearly to be agreeing against a Locarno treaty in Asia. If so, then Eden had to yield.

12-Foot Alligator Provides Battle For Deputies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 12-foot alligator is back in the Everglades after tying up traffic on U.S. 1 north of Miami for nearly an hour. Sheriff's Deputies Richard Wright and Robert Laichak suffered rope burns in the battle to subdue the huge reptile which was first spotted by a motorist along the busy highway last night. Wright said they couldn't figure what to do when they arrived, since there's a $300 fine for shooting an alligator.

"It lay there peacefully enough until three Humane Society workers arrived," Wright said. "But when we started to rope it, it went wild."

Four ropes were tossed over the creature's snout and neck. It whirled and lunged, snapping its huge jaws and thrashing its tail. More than 100 persons assembled and shouted encouragement while perspiring officers struggled with the 'gator.

Wright said it was more than a mile from where the 'gator was found to the nearest water.

"This alligator looked like the daddy of them all," said Charles W. Pusey, executive vice president of the Humane Society. "He was the biggest alligator I ever saw."

Pusey said he was turned over to conservation officers for release in Everglades National Park.

Leo The Lip, Laraine The Lady Happily Married . . . To Baseball

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The marital romance of movie star Laraine Day and Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants baseball club is a victory of later love over dislike at first sight.

The first time Laraine, who looks like the girl every man hopes to wed, met Leo was in one of those velvet night clubs.

"Everybody crowded around to talk to him as if he were important," she recalled. "I didn't know who he was, but I certainly did dislike him."

The feeling was so strong that two years later, when Laraine saw Leo boarding a plane on which she was a passenger, she hoped he wouldn't sit by her because she dreaded having to talk to him. But Leo did most of the talking.

"I looked over at him after a while," said Laraine, "and suddenly thought to myself, 'This is the man I'm going to marry.' He didn't know it, but I did."

Soon after that they were married.

As a girl Laraine hated baseball so much that she would umpire a game at school to keep from having to play it. But today she watches some 77 baseball games a year.

"It's making a nervous wreck of me," she said. "I don't feel like an average fan. Winning and losing affects our lives. It's our future."

"When we lose a game, I'm much more upset than Leo. He doesn't bring the game home with him."

"If the Giants win, we take in a movie. We never go out after he loses a game. But it's not because he feels miserable.

"He says, 'People always ask you how you lost; they never ask you how you won. But if you've lost a game, there is no point in losing it over and over again.'"

Laraine has adjusted her film career so as not to let it conflict with the job of being Mrs. Durocher.

She makes a picture a year, acts in four television dramas, serves as a panelist on a TV program. But she goes to spring training with Leo, attends every home game here, and when the team takes to the road flies out to their California home to be with their children, Chris and Michele.

"Before I married Leo I wanted to win an Academy Award," she said. "Now all I want is for us to win the pennant. My work is secondary."

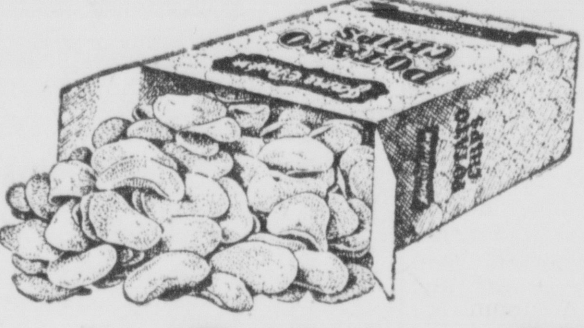

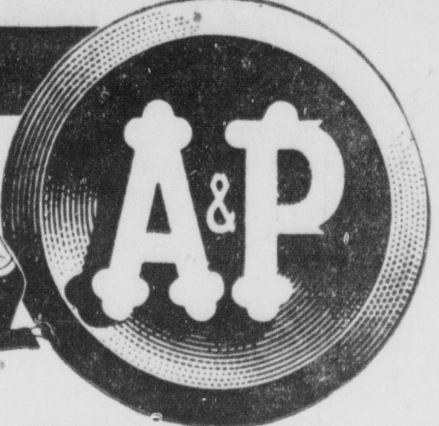

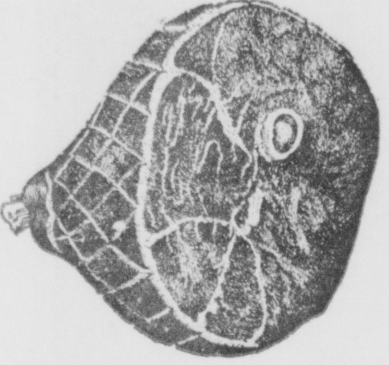

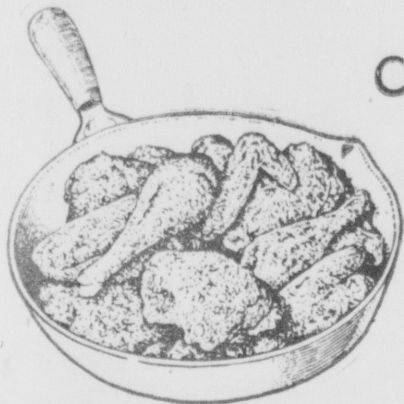

Laraine has done a wonderful public relations job for her husband's ball club. She is popular with the players and their wives. The sports writers like her, and the wives of the sports writers like her, too, for her pleasant, honest, friendly manner. In the jealous world of baseball her task hasn't been easy. Laraine has won out by being simply what she is—a good wife who backs her husband all the way.

Nobody pitches harder for Durocher today than the girl who looked at him in an airplane seven years ago and suddenly realized he was her world.

French Hold In Indochina Said To Be Crumbling Fast

Editor's Note:— Larry Allen, Pulitzer Prize-winning war correspondent of The Associated Press, has been covering the Indochina fighting for some two years from the battle areas where a tight censorship is in force. He has filed the following dispatch from Singapore, in neighboring censor-free Malaya.

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (P)—France's shaky hold on the Red River Delta—key to military victory in Indochina—is crumbling rapidly.

Another three weeks may tell the tale as to how long the French can hold onto the highway and railway lifeline between Hanoi and the seaport city of Haiphong, 4 miles to the eastward.

Within that period of time it appears that one of two things is almost bound to happen. Either there is going to be a cease-fire agreement, or the Communist-led Vietminh will hit the French with a massive "human sea" attack.

Nightly for weeks the French have been losing strategic defense posts under attack by overwhelming numbers of Vietminh, or blowing them up themselves and withdrawing forces to bolster those guarding the Hanoi-to-Haiphong lifeline.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France has pledged to get a cease-fire in Indochina by July 20 or resign. Moves are now under way between the French and Vietminh high commands to discuss details of a possible truce.

In the meantime the French holding in the rice and mineral-rich Red River Delta, where seven million Vietnamese live, is shrinking fast.

The French high command already has announced a general withdrawal from the big Nam Dinh province and its textile-manufacturing center of the same name, a city of more than 100,000 on the Red River 55 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Evacuation of the big Catholic center of Phat Diem, 75 miles southeast of Hanoi, and of the towns of Thai Binh and Ninh Binh, 60 miles southeast and south respectively, is expected shortly.

The French delta's defense, long described as the main bulwark against the sweep of communism into all of Southeast Asia and once embracing 400 miles, now is being swiftly whittled down to about a 200-mile stretch. The new line runs from just west and north of Hanoi eastward to the seaport of Haiphong, where the bulk of heavy American war equipment for French forces is landed.

It is along the railway and highway between Hanoi and Haiphong that the French are preparing to make their last-ditch stand in northern Indochina unless a cease-fire stops the shooting.

Already the French, reckoning with the possibility of being forced to give up the city of Hanoi and its 160,000 inhabitants, are throwing up new defense works around Haiphong. The port will be the site of their beachhead stand against an estimated eight rebel divisions—and 100,000 other troops long operating inside the delta—which the Vietminh are expected to unleash in the battle for the delta.

Dispatches from Hanoi today said at least 50,000 Vietnamese already had been evacuated from the southern and southeastern sectors of the delta.

Gov. Nguyen Huu Tri of North Viet Nam said he feared a French withdrawal from the delta would abandon millions of Vietnamese to communism.

Two French cruisers, the Gloire and Montcalm, recently arrived in Indochinese waters, presumably to stand by at Haiphong if needed to cover a French evacuation. But Gen. Rene Cogny, the French commander in northern Indochina, has said that both Hanoi and Haiphong will be defended.

How long the French could hold out against Vietminh assaults like those which smashed the fortress of Dien Bien Phu is difficult to estimate. The French themselves often have said they probably couldn't last more than two or three weeks.

Ashville Doctor's Training Advanced

Richard Messick, of 154 Powell St., Ashville, has successfully completed one year's internship at the Philadelphia General Hospital, one of the nation's largest general hospitals.

He was one of 108 interns who had been selected last June for training at the 2,800-bed city-owned institution from among some 600 applicants.

Internship at the hospital generally is designed to train physicians both for general practice and for advanced work. Dr. Messick plans to accept a fellowship in Internal Medicine at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

5 Anti-Bell Cities Merge Complaint

COLUMBUS (P)—The state utilities commission has consolidated the request of five cities that the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. be made to reduce its rates by 12 million dollars a year with the firm's application for a $8,913,000 rate increase now being heard.

Both protesting cities—Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Youngstown and Struthers—and the company earlier asked the cases be heard together. The commission said testimony in the rate-cut case will begin July 26, the same date a dozen cities protesting the rate increase application are to present their testimony.

Sisters Suffer Identical Fates

RADFORD, Va. (P)—A Radford woman was shot and killed by her husband here late last night, police said — the second of two sisters to be slain by her husband in six weeks.

The husbands then committed suicide in each instance. Officers said Guy Mills, 28, shot himself with a .22-caliber pistol after first killing Mrs. Loma Faye Wurzbarger Mills. The couple's small daughter was found unhurt in the Mills home here.

On May 19, Mrs. Joe D. Howell — Mrs. Mills' sister — and her two young daughters were shot by Howell, who then killed himself, also with a .22-caliber pistol.

Army Pvt. James R. Blankenship, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dockie Blankenship, of Ashville Route 2, is serving in Korea with the 7th Infantry Division.

Men of the "Bayonet" division are undergoing intensive training to maintain the peak combat efficiency displayed by the unit from Pusan to the Yalu River.

Blankenship, a medic, entered the Army in June 1953 and arrived in Korea earlier this month. He completed basic training at Camp Pickett, Va., and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

The cost of a home-cooked holiday dinner this Fourth of July will be considerably lower than it was a year ago.

Frying chickens are down 9 cents a pound on the average from the levels of July 1 last year. Other holiday favorites—turkey, sirloin of beef, smoked picnic hams—are off substantially. Egg prices—some 20 cents a dozen lower than a year ago—are at their lowest levels since 1940.

Also available for a July 4th dinner or picnic spread are a bigger-than-usual variety of vegetables, berries and fruits—many of them at bargain-basement prices.

Raspberries, currants, gooseberries, blueberries, dates, plums, cherries, nectarines, apricots and figs are reported increasingly abundant this week. Peaches—not only from such traditional growing areas as Georgia and Southern California but also from orchards many miles farther north—are more plentiful, and lower in cost, than they've been at any time this year.

Watermelon, a mainstay of the picnic feast, is listed as one of the week's best produce buys by marketing specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Bountiful supplies of nearby berries and fruits have a tendency in many areas to depress prices of rarer produce items grown many hundreds of miles away. This is particularly noticeable in lower prices this week for Pacific Coast eating apples (mostly of the "Delicious" and "Winesap" varieties) in food markets along the Atlantic Seaboard and in the Middle West.

Named as outstanding vegetable buys of the week are cabbage, lettuce and beets, followed closely by tomatoes, onions, potatoes and beans. Corn, department of agriculture officials say, is in plentiful supply but much of it is not of top-grade quality.

Price of pork chops had a slight tendency to rise in many areas this week. Price trends otherwise showed little change from the previous week, except in the case of the more heavily promoted holiday week-end "specials." These included frying chickens, roast turkeys, skinless frankfurters, smoked hams, sirloin of beef and leg of lamb. Many stores are offering them at substantial reductions.

Butter consumption has risen perceptibly since the government reduced the level of its price supports for the yellow spread. According to the Department of Agriculture American households stepped up their butter purchases by 7 per cent during April—the first month of reduced price supports. Retail prices averaged 6.6 cents a pound—or about 9.4 cents less than in the November-January period when the government was supporting dairy prices at 90 per cent of parity. The present support level is 75 per cent.

Russia Claims A-Power Plant

LONDON (P)—Moscow Radio has announced that the Soviet Union has opened its first industrial atomic power station with a capacity of 5,000 kilowatts.

The broadcast quoted a statement from the Soviet Council of Ministers saying the station opened Sunday producing electrical current for both industry and agriculture.

It did not give the location but said other stations of larger size are planned with a capacity from 50,000 to 100,000 kilowatts.

The United States is now building the equipment for its first peacetime atomic power plant to be located at Shippingport, Pa., on the Ohio River.

QUITE AN ASSIGNMENT

PROPOSED constitutional amendments are coming thick and fast, reflecting the doubts and confusions of the era. Rep. Dan Reed of New York and Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois are collaborating on one which they hope to get out of committee and before Congress this session.

It would limit federal income tax rates to a maximum of 25 per cent with the proviso that Congress, by a two-thirds vote, could raise the rate at any time. The idea is that if the United States got into war or another emergency and needed more revenue, it would not be straitjacketed by the amendment.

Inspiration of this proposal is the fact that wealthier individuals and corporations normally provide most of the investment funds for expansion of American business and industry. Under present income taxes and surtaxes most of these investment funds go over to the government. This limits private enterprise and the creation of new jobs for a growing population.

It is the old complaint that the income tax was the beginning of socialism in the United States. It redistributes wealth through taxation, stepping up the power and the socializing activities of the national government.

It is clear that if taxes on the wealthier incomes were lowered from over 50 per cent to a maximum of 25 per cent, there would be more investment funds for private enterprise. Selling this idea to two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the states in a generation brought up on the "social services" of a big government may be quite an assignment.

VANISHING MARKETS

WHILE THE nation's agricultural economy continues to wrestle with surpluses, developments in other parts of the world may further complicate the situation. American farmers depend upon foreign markets to absorb production from 50 million acres.

With the present emphasis on self-sufficiency, many countries which have been good customers for American grains and fibers are making an effort to produce their own. Whatever success they may attain will affect practically every American commodity, from wheat to dried milk.

Various countries are being aided by the United States in efforts to increase food production, it being necessary to teach the people how to produce what for them are strange crops. Some economists hold that the whole program is misdirected — that the countries involved should be helped industrially, in behalf of employment and a general improvement in their economic situation. In the past the most highly developed nations have been America's best

Those who dislike him call him brash, ill-tempered, aggressive. Undoubtedly, he has a special gift for making intense enemies and loyal friends. His enemies are devoted to his destruction because at some point in the relationship he has cut through to the hard core of character without the mitigating graciousness of telling only a good friend and not the victim of his penetration.

It is Roy Cohn of whom I write, at 27, a national figure whose mail pours in like a movie star's. He was a graduate lawyer at 20; a clerk in the United States Attorney's office before he was admitted to the bar; he is already a veteran trial lawyer and probably one of the four or five most understanding lawyers in cases involving Communists or their affiliates.

It usually takes between three and five years for a lawyer to fit himself to handle Communist cases. Because of the Reds' use of Aesopian language, as, for instance, using the word peace when war is meant, or democracy when a dictatorship of an elite controlling a party is meant, it is necessary for a lawyer who goes into such cases to have made a full study of the literature of the subject.

It is a large volume of material going back more than a century. While not all Communists and very few anti-Communists are intimate with this literature, no lawyer can understandingly enter this field without a thorough knowledge of it.

This has, in no small measure, been the secret of Roy Cohn's success in the preparation of the Case of the Top Communist Eleven, the Remington Case, the Second String Communist Case, and the Rosenberg Case. While Cohn worked alone on none of these cases, his contribution in all of them has been enormous, his ability uncontested.

I can write of Cohn with frankness because we are friends between whom there can be no flattery or malice. It is not secret that when Cohn took over the chief counselship of the McCarthy Committee, he found not a case in the files which had any meaning.

Also there was an accumulation of lawyers whom Senator McCarthy would not fire, because he finds it difficult to fire people. Cohn had to do the house cleaning and he did it without worrying about very many amenities. His attitude was that superfluous legal furniture was unnecessary.

Roy Cohn does not need this job and possibly does not understand the attitude of one who does need a job and for whom unemployment can be a personal tragedy. His father, Albert Cohn, a judge on the Appellate Court in New York and one of the most respected of jurists, has had an important career in the Democratic Party in association with Edward J. Flynn. Roy Cohn grew up in the Democratic Party and since childhood has known most of its leading personalities in New York. His prospects in the Democratic Party were always good and his advancement could have been swift.

High Blood Pressure Aided by Low Salt Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OFTEN, high blood pressure can be lowered simply by eliminating salt from the diet. Actually, it is the sodium that is contained within the salt and some other foods that must be foregone.

Lowering the sodium intake of heart failure patients can also prevent some of the severe complications of this condition.

Traditional Treatment

It has been shown that the amount of sodium is excessively increased in certain layers of the arteries, when a person suffers from high blood pressure. Treating high blood pressure and certain cases of heart failure by sodium or salt restriction has been advocated for many years.

This type of treatment was not always successful, because moderate, rather than drastic, restrictions were employed. It is necessary to have drastic restrictions for good results. The rice and fruit diet used by many people with high blood pressure is beneficial, but many are unable to tolerate the monotony of this diet.

Recently, successful treatment was reported by putting a person on a diet moderately low in salt, and then giving him certain resins, known as ion exchange resins, along with the diet.

These ion exchange resins prevent the salt from being absorbed by the intestines. Therefore, a minimal amount of salt can be eaten without it getting into the system.

Deficiency Caused

These resins do have a tendency to cause a potassium deficiency within the body. Therefore, potassium must be given along with the ion exchange resins in order to prevent a serious deficiency of this vital body mineral.

SYNOPSIS

Norman Brandt and nurse Cynthia Doyle had first met at the scene of an accident near Washington, D. C. He'd tried to "date" her, but she'd paid her court, but Cynthia's romantic interest centers about Dr. Sellers with whom she works at the clinic. It was not until the doctor discovered that he had a rival for Nurse Doyle's esteem, that he began to see her as a woman as well as a nurse. He is gravely concerned when Cynthia accepts an invitation to dine with the handsome Mr. Brandt. So much so, that he, himself, endeavors to date her.

CHAPTER TEN

THE OTHER two girls had wondered why Roz had been at home so much. It was not like her to sit at home and wait for any man. How could Norman possibly tell her that he was not interested in her, and never had been? Cynthia wondered. He could not simply blurt it out and hurt Roz's feelings. He'd have to be very diplomatic.

"The phone rang," Roz continued, "but it was never the right voice at the other end. So now I have to think up some good reason to do the calling. Which is why I dreamed up a party. Don't you two think that's a clever idea?"

"Very clever," Nora said. Nora thought that both Roz and Cynthia were far cleverer than she was. But neither of them could be as happy. She was so happy because Alan was coming home she could almost have died of it. She wanted everyone else to be happy, too. So she added, "I'll ask Tommy. He's young, but he's a sweet boy. And it will be a wonderful opportunity, Cyn, for you to make an impression on Dr. Sellers."

"Right you are," Roz said cheerfully, before Cynthia could comment. "It does a man good to see the little woman in a domestic setting. Makes him realize all he's missing."

Cynthia got up from the table to carry out the dishes and bring in the coffee. She felt like a fool. A run-down one. Yet, maybe the party was not a bad idea. After it was over, perhaps Roz would realize that Norman was not interested in any setting. Or maybe Roz would realize that Norman wasn't the man she wanted, after all.

She wished now that she had not kept anything secret — that first accidental meeting at the scene of the accident, running into Norman when she went to see Julius at the hospital, dinner with him last night.

Once you got yourself involved, it became harder and harder to wiggle out. Well, it was up to Norman. It was his problem, not hers.

Now, upon more sober reflections, she decided that perhaps Norman Brandt had been handing her a line. He simply could not have fallen in love with her, made up his mind he wanted to marry her, when he had seen her only a few times.

Maybe, she thought, feeling a little better, it would all turn out all right eventually, since she could never fall in love with Norman.

How could she, when she was in love with Walt, and when he was the kind of man she wanted to marry?

Well, Walt certainly had seen her upon enough occasions admiring to children, presenting just such an appeal, and it had never made the slightest impression upon him. So maybe it would be a good idea to let Walt see her in an entirely different setting.

She decided to tell him, next day when there was a slight lull in the treatment room in the clinic, that it was to be a party Friday evening, not a twosome. Again this would show him she was not overanxious to have dinner alone with him. Keep him guessing—cool tactics, but usually good.

"A party, eh?" Walt said. "Well, that will be nice." If he was disappointed that he was not to have her to himself, he certainly did not show it. "I hope I won't have to dress up," he added, since like most men he hated the ordeal of getting into dinner clothes.

Cynthia assured him that he could come just as he was.

"In this getup?" He indicated the long, enveloping white coat he had on. "I'm afraid you'd be ashamed of me," he said, a twinkle in his eye. "I'd never stand up to your fine-feathered friend, the one who ran down the little Mancini boy. . . I presume he's invited to your party too?"

"Yes, he is," Cynthia said. She wished Walt would stop referring to Norman as a man who had committed manslaughter. If the two became acquainted at the party Friday night, Walt might change his mind about Norman. And Norman might discover that Walt did not always wear a scowl, or try to tower above everyone else.

She did not bother to correct Walt's idea that Norman was her particular friend. But she did say, "I wouldn't be ashamed of you—ever, Dr. Sellers."

He said, "Thank you for saying that, Miss Doyle." His eyes were still twinkling. "I had hoped I might have the opportunity to discuss something with you—something very important. Since we can't very well have a private conversation Friday evening, why can't we have dinner together tonight? That is, of course," again his mouth was humorous, "unless you are dining again with your dark and handsome friend."

"His name is Norman Brandt," Cynthia said. Walt made Norman sound wicked and sinister. "I'd be glad to have dinner with you tonight," she added. She wondered what it was he wished to discuss with her. Something of a private nature. She hoped it would be something personal, for a change.

"That's fine. Don't bother to go home to change. As you just told me, you'll do very well as you are. I thought we'd find a place nearby. There's a little Italian place—would that suit you?"

Cynthia said it would. She had to smile to herself, wondering what Walt would say if he knew that the "little Italian place" was where she had had dinner with Norman Brandt.

news behind

WASHINGTON — The scientists' stampede to Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer's defense has reached such proportions here and abroad that it portends a threat to national security and prestige, in the opinion of the White House, the Pentagon and atomic experts at Washington. It has already lined up the scientific intelligentsia against the government in the thermonuclear war with Russia.

According to members of the Gray Board and the Atomic Energy Commission, the scientists are laboring under a misapprehension. Time and again, during the hearings, Gray Board members emphasized that they were trying only a single and eccentric individual, not a specific or separate group of Americans.

As they point out, the fact that Alger Hiss was a brilliant lawyer did not mean that Congress and the Department of Justice were investigating and prosecuting and singling out the legal profession for condemnation. More lawyers and politicians than scientists have been placed on the grill at Washington in recent years. Yet, they are not sulking in their tents, quitting their professions or refusing to serve Uncle Sam.

REBELLION — President Eisenhower and his defense aides do not know how to combat this incipient scientific rebellion and boycott, although deeply alarmed by its extent and emotional excesses. It may be that they will hold a council of eminent scientists to place the Oppenheimer decision before them in a new light. Or a "white paper" on the subject may be forthcoming.

It is Washington's belief that Oppenheimer's defenders cannot have read the voluminous record, especially his examination by Roger Robb, the Gray Board's counsel. The official feeling on the basis of this document is that Oppenheimer was given every possible break, in view of the mass of damning evidence developed against him. Board members believe they were lenient.

LENIENCE — The board gave almost no weight to the fact that Oppenheimer had deceived atomic security officers and the General Advisory Committee on several important matters, including Communist efforts to obtain A-bomb secrets and his part in delaying H-bomb experimentation.

It passed over his continued association with Red sympathizers. It even minimized the arrogance he exhibited in believing that he alone should decide what was and was not disloyal or indiscreet conduct. In short, it excused his human frailties and idiosyncrasies to such an extent that it found him to be a loyal and patriotic citizen.

The Gray Board denied him future "clearance" for thermonuclear secrets for two reasons only. The first was that he undoubtedly delayed development of the H-bomb for four years even after Truman gave the go-ahead order. The second was that Oppenheimer "could go fishing for the rest of his life" without hurting or helping future developments in this field. He is not an "indispensable man" in preparing for a possible thermonuclear conflict.

TESTIMONY — The board based these decisions on detailed testimony by Dr. Edward Teller, the Hungarian-born scientist known as "father of the H-bomb." A friend of Oppenheimer, he testified with obvious reluctance. But the following colloquy between him and Robb are the most important passages in the million words of testimony in this historic controversy.

Robb: In your opinion, if Dr. Oppenheimer should go fishing for the rest of his life, what would be the effect upon the atomic energy and thermonuclear programs?

When Robb explained that he referred to Oppenheimer's H-bomb assistance "after the war," Teller replied:

"I should say that committees could go fishing without affecting the work of those actively engaged in the work. In particular, however, the general recommendations that I know have come from Oppenheimer were more frequently, and I mean not only and not even particularly the thermonuclear case, but in other cases, more frequently a hindrance than a help, and, therefore, . . . I think that further work of Dr. Oppenheimer on committees would not be helpful."

QUITE AN ASSIGNMENT
PROPOSED constitutional amendments are coming thick and fast, reflecting the doubts and confusions of the era. Rep. Dan Reed of New York and Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois are collaborating on one which they hope to get out of committee and before Congress this session.
It would limit federal income tax rates to a maximum of 25 per cent with the proviso that Congress, by a two-thirds vote, could raise the rate at any time. The idea is that if the United States got into war or another emergency and needed more revenue, it would not be straitjacketed by the amendment.
Inspiration of this proposal is the fact that wealthy individuals and corporations normally provide most of the investment funds for expansion of American business and industry. Under present income taxes and surtaxes most of these investment funds go over to the government. This limits private enterprise and the creation of new jobs for a growing population.
It is the old complaint that the income tax was the beginning of socialism in the United States. It redistributes wealth through taxation, stepping up the power and the socializing activities of the national government.
It is clear that if taxes on the wealthy incomes were lowered from over 50 per cent to a maximum of 25 per cent, there would be more investment funds for private enterprise. Selling this idea to two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the states in a generation brought up on the "social services" of a big government may be quite an assignment.

VANISHING MARKETS
WHILE THE nation's agricultural economy continues to wrestle with surpluses, developments in other parts of the world may further complicate the situation. American farmers depend upon foreign markets to absorb production from 50 million acres.
With the present emphasis on self-sufficiency, many countries which have been good customers for American grains and fibers are making an effort to produce their own. Whatever success they may attain will affect practically every American commodity, from wheat to dried milk.
Various countries are being aided by the United States in efforts to increase food production, it being necessary to teach the people how to produce what for them are strange crops. Some economists hold that the whole program is misdirected — that the countries involved should be helped industrially, in behalf of employment and a general improvement in their economic situation. In the past the most highly developed nations have been America's best

Those who dislike him call him brash, ill-tempered, aggressive. Undoubtedly, he has a special gift for making intense enemies and loyal friends. His enemies are devoted to his destruction because at some point in the relationship he has cut through to the hard core of character without the mitigating graciousness of telling only a good friend and not the victim of his penetration.
It is Roy Cohn of whom I write, at 27, a national figure whose mail pours in like a movie star's. He was a graduate lawyer at 20; a clerk in the United States Attorney's office before he was admitted to the bar; he is already a veteran trial lawyer and probably one of the four or five most understanding lawyers in cases involving Communists or their affiliates.
It usually takes between three and five years for a lawyer to fit himself to handle Communist cases. Because of the Reds' use of Aesopian language, as, for instance, using the word peace when war is meant, or democracy when a dictatorship of an elite controlling a party is meant, it is necessary for a lawyer who goes into such cases to have made a full study of the literature of the subject.
It is a large volume of material going back more than a century. While not all Communists and very few anti-Communists are intimate with this literature, no lawyer can understandingly enter this field without a thorough knowledge of it.
This has, in no small measure, been the secret of Roy Cohn's success in the preparation of the Case of the Top Communist Eleven, the Remington Case, the Second String Communist Case, and the Rosenberg Case. ... and I think hot canapés first, since a buffet supper will be mostly cold. And you must make one of your fudge-icing cakes, Nora. We were discussing what we would have Friday night," Roz informed Cynthia as she came back into the living room, one corner of which served as their dining room.
"Friday night?" Cynthia almost spilled the not coffee. Why did Roz have to pick Friday? Still, on second thought, as she already had a date with Walt for that evening, it might work out for the best, too.
"Yes. We decided that Friday would be the best night. That will give us all day Saturday to clean up the mess. And Nora says that Tommy goes to night school through the week," Roz took it for granted that Friday would be satisfactory with Cynthia, so Cynthia let it pass.
"Suppose Mr. Brandt won't come?" Nora said. That would be terrible, when the whole party was really on his account.
"Oh, he'll come," Roz appeared quite confident. "He told me he hoped I'd invite him back to the house—remember, Cyn? He also said he wanted to meet you, Nora."
"He did? How nice of him," Nora was always pleased at any compliment. There was no reason for it, since she was a very sweet girl and quite pretty, but Nora sometimes suffered from what Roz bluntly called being unable to blow her own horn. "I tell you what," Nora came up with an idea, "I'll bake the cake, but you can let Mr. Brandt think you did it."
"That's generous of you," Roz made a small grimace, "but I doubt if Norman would swallow that one. He knows I'm not the type. Cyn, I want you to arrange the flowers. You're good at that. I wish," her expression was even wryer, "I were good for something besides being ornamental."
"Oh, but you are!" Nora was loyal. "Any girl who has her R.N. has proved she's worth a lot—so Alan says."
"I got mine by the skin of my teeth," Roz said. "I never would have gone on and taken extra courses in physical therapy, as Cyn did. And I'd never have the patience to wait on old people, or cranky sick ones, like you, Nora. No, my forte is being pleasant-to-the-eye, and most men are more interested in how a girl looks than in what she's like underneath the war paint."
Nora was glad that Alan was not that kind. She never could understand how it had happened that Alan had chosen her, when there were so many prettier and far smarter girls in the world. But he had.
Cynthia didn't say anything, as there didn't seem to be anything she could say. But she thought that Roz could be wrong. Some men cared more about what a woman was like than how she looked. Norman had not claimed to have lost his heart because he considered Cynthia a beauty. He had given, of all the old reasons,

Experiences In Club Work Are Told By Junior Leader

Barbara Stoer
Advises 4-H Club

Miss Barbara Stoer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Stoer of Orient Route 1, has listed some of her experiences in 4-H dairy club work and offers tips to other club members.

Miss Stoer, Junior Leader of Future Farmers of Monroe Township 4-H club, represented her club as safety delegate to the Ohio Congress in 1952. From this congress, she was elected state delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress.

Miss Stoer states that during June, National Dairy Month, the 4-H club members were especially aware of the importance of dairy farming to the community and the nation.

The 4-H club members, says Miss Stoer, are producers of some of the best animals and products raised on the nation's farms.

Miss Stoer urges all boys and girls starting in dairy club work to purchase a registered heifer to use as a club project. She suggests that County Agent Larry Best is a good source of information when starting such a project and building up a herd.

One of the most important tasks in building up good herd is to keep production records, says Miss Stoer. She states that Mr. Martindale the DHIA tester, will make monthly tests on cattle. Miss Stoer feeds according to production of her cattle. For instance, she states that she feeds at the rate of one pound for each three pounds of milk produced.

Since the Stoer farm does not have a silo, Barbara feeds a variety of several kinds of hay in alternate feedings. She emphasized the fact that quality hay pays in the production records. Her advice is, "Never keep a cow that eats all the profits."

In caring for young calves, Miss Stoer urges clubbers not to forget the importance of keeping them supplied with warm water in addition to the milk feedings.

The recent declines in milk and cattle prices have cut into the profits derived from her work, but she states that hard work and good management practices can keep dairy farmers on top.

Miss Stoer demonstrates how her work has paid off, not only in profits but in experiences. She has represented Pickaway County on a Dairy Judging Team at Ohio State Fair in addition to her attendance at state and national congresses.

Miss Stoer closes by stating, "Looking at my Jerseys and knowing that they are working for me gives me a feeling of security in something tangible, which many young people need today. 4-H club members, let's see what we can do to make Pickaway County have the cream of the crop. Let's 'Make the Best Better'."

American First Ladies Get Beauty Treatments

By ESTHER VAN WAGONER-TUFTY
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Margaret Brown has probably the most unusual job in Washington.

She's giving beauty treatments to all the First Ladies, from Martha Washington to Mamie Eisenhower, assembled in the famous figurine collection at the Smithsonian Institution.

Faces fade and need a touch-up. Elaborate inaugural gowns require cleaning, even if preserved behind glass. Some costumes require changes to reflect the style of the times better.

Actually, Miss Brown is the assistant curator. She and her staff are getting the First Ladies refurbished for their removal to a new series of eight period rooms, where they will look "at home" in settings historically authentic.

The beautifying is being done gradually, one by one, so summer-time sightseers will not be disappointed. But sometimes a smart history student will ask for the missing First Lady. At the moment it's Abigail Adams.

Come Christmas time, the ladies will be in their new quarters and ready for a christening by Mrs. Eisenhower. Her own inaugural gown of rosy pink peau de soie sprinkled with brilliants will be one of the prettiest when it goes on display. Although already turned over to the institution, its first appearance will come at the December ceremony.

MRS. EISENHOWER'S gown isn't the only pink creation. Martha Washington's gown was a salmon pink and Eleanor Roosevelt's elegant satin had a pink cascade.

The favorite costume of the sightseers is the lush blue velvet ball gown of Angelica Van Buren, the President's daughter-in-law, who served as Van Buren's hostess during his term.

In the collection are more "whites" than any color. The first "black" was an elaborate taffeta mourning frock worn by Mrs. Franklin Pierce, whose son died just before she came to the White House. Later, when black became extremely fashionable, it was the inaugural choice of many First Ladies, including Edith Bowdoin Wilson, whose handsome black velvet glitters with jet beads.

Of course, the most unforgettable model was worn by Grace Coolidge, because the fashions for women during the flapper era were all fantastic. Hers is of coral red velvet with the waistline below the waist and skirt almost above the knees! Every Phi Beta Phi points to the sorority emblem on the blouse. Incidentally, the life-size portrait of Mrs. Coolidge in the White House is in the same dress, but has been altered with a modest underskirt reaching the ankles.

And what is Miss Brown's favorite? She hesitated to choose, but then did admit she "adored" the wedding dress of Miss Harriet Lane, the niece of President Buchanan and his hostess in the White House. The dress is of moiré taffeta and trimmed with rare rose point lace.

Homemakers Find Many Home Uses For Shirt Boards

Shirt boards, those cardboard backing sheets used by laundries to protect shirts from the time they are pressed until they are stored in dresser drawers by the homemaker, have many uses in the home.

Many males, according to American Institute of Laundering, educational and research center for the laundry industry, are in the habit of slipping such shirtboards from their laundered shirts and dropping them in the waste basket, ignoring the fact that they have a valuable variety of uses.

Homemakers will find many uses for the lowly but versatile shirtboard when they prepare food for the family. Vegetables or fruit for salads can be cut or peeled on one of the boards. The board makes a nice cutting surface, absorbs juices lost in cutting, and makes a sturdy wrapping when folded around the peeling and disposed without mess.

Shirtboards are stiff enough to hold sweepings when no dust pan is handy and if you're building a home, save those shirtboards to pick up wood shavings, plaster, and dirt and mud tracked into the house.

Another variety of uses, the Institute says, occurs when there is painting to be done in the house. When painting windows the shirtboard can be held over the glass so it will receive the excess paint. Boards can also be used as a guide or straight edge and as "splatter boards" under paint cans.

The shirtboard can also be used under potted plants to protect the painted or varnished window sill or can be placed on the newly scrubbed or waxed floor to prevent tracks or scuff marks.

Ever have to keep the children in the house because of rainy weather? Those shirtboards you've saved will come in handy for them to use in coloring, making puzzles or for building houses or boats. Shirtboards can be used as picture backing when mounting photographs or paintings, as protection from sleet or snow if held in place by the windshield wiper on the family car.

Those whose tastes run to stencils can draw their own original designs on shirtboards. It is then an easy matter to cut and paint them on nursery, kitchen and bathroom walls.

Save those shirtboards, the American Institute of Laundering recommends. They'll come in handy sooner than you think.

Basic Rules Are Listed In Table Settings

Giving your first dinner party?

Or are you a well-conditioned hostess? Whichever you are, correct table settings are the best ways to show off your silver, food and social smartness.

Some basic rules about silverware: Knives, forks and spoons should be placed in the order of use, from the outside in toward the plate. Knives and spoons are of course, always set on the right with the sharp edge of the knife turned toward the plate.

Smaller utensils often present a problem to the hostess. A butter knife has its place across the bread and butter plate. And the small cocktail or oyster fork is next to the soup spoon.

You know what to put on the table. But what should you leave off?

At a formal dinner, dessert fork and spoon make their first appearance with the dessert plate—and not before. And when no knife is needed for the meal, keep it off the table. Only in such a case should the fork replace the knife in position on the table.

Napkins may be placed at the left of the setting or on the plate itself. Majority expert opinion holds the napkin fold should be away from the plate.

Summer brings a suggestion for serving iced tea. If a small service plate is put beneath the glass, it will solve a diner's dilemma: what to do with the wet spoon.

Water glass or goblet is placed just above the tip of the knife blade. The cup and saucer is set to the right of the plate.

Set off the mood of your dinner with the appropriate dishes, cloth and accessories. Candles, flowers or center-piece help give that picture-book atmosphere to your dinner table.

Local Officers Join Nation's Alert Against "3-D Drivers"

Officers of local law enforcement agencies, along with spokesmen for other segments of the community, have joined in the nationwide Fourth of July warning against "3-D drivers".

The National Safety Council has identified that type as "dumb, daring and deadly." In its appeal for special caution on the highways over the coming weekend, the council said:

"Fortunately, the 3-D drivers are in the minority, but there are enough of them on the road to make driving in heavy holiday traffic a risky business. If they don't kill you, they'll scare you almost to death."

Officers of the Pickaway County sheriff's department, the city police department, and the State Patrol have been especially aware here of the nation's problem in highway fatalities. The crackdown on careless motorists began long ago in this section of the state and still continues in full force. In the interests of law-abiding drivers, it will be tightened even more over the holiday week-end.

OFFICIALS HERE were directly responsible for two of the major steps taken so far this year in the cause of highway safety—traffic beacons at Leistville's "Dead Man's Crossing" and at the district's other notorious intersection

—the crossing of Routes 104 and 22 west of Circleville.

Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer, one of several who helped bring about these safeguards, also launched formation of a district safety committee.

With the district thus keenly alert to special dangers this coming week-end extra preparations were being made to apprehend the "3-D drivers".

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 40 million vehicles will be on the move during the three-day weekend, and that they will roll up about five billion miles of travel — the greatest Fourth of July traffic jam in history.

"Excessive speed contributes to one out of three fatal traffic accidents," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "Last Fourth of July, which was only a Federal authorities last May 25, arrested the former president, Mrs. Fronia Sexton, 62, and said they would seek an indictment against her. She has been ordered held under $5,000 bond pending federal grand jury action.

Howard Dale, now president of the bank, said the bank is employing a Cincinnati firm to conduct its own audit of the bank books. Federal bank inspectors had made the first audit in which the loss of funds was uncovered.

two-day holiday, 261 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

This Memorial Day, a three-day holiday, 362 died in traffic accidents. Speed control is the personal responsibility of every driver. A heavy foot on the throttle can mean a heavy heart for someone."

THE COUNCIL offers five tips for a safe holiday trip:

1. Start early, before traffic is heavy, and take it easy. Cut your usual speed 10 miles an hour.
2. Obey legal and common sense speed limits. Slow down before you get to an intersection or traffic signal.
3. Be especially careful when passing other cars. Don't be an eager weaver in traffic.
4. Keep a safe, clear stopping distance between you and the car ahead. Watch cars behind in your rear view mirror.
5. Signal for turns well before turning—and avoid abrupt stops.

It is to be expected that Roy Cohn will continue to battle Com-are not clear fear his knowledge. Such men may succeed in ridding this Committee of its ablest member but will it end his usefulness in fighting Communists? Naturally, it will not.

Local Officers Join Nation's Alert Against "3-D Drivers"

Officers of local law enforcement agencies, along with spokesmen for other segments of the community, have joined in the nationwide Fourth of July warning against "3-D drivers".

The National Safety Council has identified that type as "dumb, daring and deadly." In its appeal for special caution on the highways over the coming weekend, the council said:

"Fortunately, the 3-D drivers are in the minority, but there are enough of them on the road to make driving in heavy holiday traffic a risky business. If they don't kill you, they'll scare you almost to death."

Officers of the Pickaway County sheriff's department, the city police department, and the State Patrol have been especially aware here of the nation's problem in highway fatalities. The crackdown on careless motorists began long ago in this section of the state and still continues in full force. In the interests of law-abiding drivers, it will be tightened even more over the holiday weekend.

OFFICIALS HERE were directly responsible for two of the major steps taken so far this year in the cause of highway safety—traffic beacons at Leisville's "Dead Man's Crossing" and at the district's other notorious intersection

—the crossing of Routes 104 and 22 west of Circleville. Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer, one of several who helped bring about these safeguards, also launched formation of a district safety committee.

With the district thus keenly alert to special dangers this coming week-end extra preparations were being made to apprehend the "3-D drivers".

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 40 million vehicles will be on the move during the three-day weekend, and that they will roll up about five billion miles of travel — the greatest Fourth of July traffic jam in history.

"Excessive speed contributes to one out of three fatal traffic accidents," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "Last Fourth of July, which was only a two-day holiday, 261 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

This Memorial Day, a three-day holiday, 362 died in traffic accidents. Speed control is the personal responsibility of every driver. A heavy foot on the throttle can mean a heavy heart for someone."

THE COUNCIL offers five tips for a safe holiday trip:

1. Start early, before traffic is heavy, and take it easy. Cut your usual speed 10 miles an hour.
2. Obey legal and common sense speed limits. Slow down before you get to an intersection or traffic signal.
3. Be especially careful when passing other cars. Don't be an eager weaver in traffic.
4. Keep a safe, clear stopping distance between you and the car ahead. Watch cars behind in your rear view mirror.
5. Signal for turns well before turning—and avoid abrupt stops.

Ironton Bank Given 'Refund'

IRONTON (AP) — The American Surety Co. of New York has handed the Citizen's National Bank here a check for $114,000 to cover what the FBI says was an "abstraction" of that amount by its former president.

Federal authorities last May 25, arrested the former president, Mrs. Fronia Sexton, 62, and said they would seek an indictment against her. She has been ordered held under $5,000 bond pending federal grand jury action.

Howard Dale, now president of the bank, said the bank is employing a Cincinnati firm to conduct its own audit of the bank books. Federal bank inspectors had made the first audit in which the loss of funds was uncovered.

that was the way to get elected and when Russia was our ally. These friends of the Cohns regarded Roy's anti-Communist activities as an aberration of youthful enthusiasm. They hoped that he would soon get over it. When he joined up with Senator McCarthy, the social pressure upon Roy and his family became virtually unbearable.

The Communists and their friends have done a pretty good job of smearing McCarthy as an anti-Semite. Roy Cohn rejects this as untrue from his own experience. It has, however, been very tough on his family whose social and political associations have always been with those who disapprove of the Junior Senator from Wisconsin. Judge Cohn has, however, stood by Roy throughout this fight.

It is to be expected that Roy Cohn will continue to battle Communists. He knows that some of the members of his Committee do not want him on it. When it has been suggested that he has intimidated one or two members, it can only be that men whose records are not clear fear his knowledge. Such men may succeed in ridding this Committee of its ablest man, but will it end his usefulness in fighting Communists? Naturally, it will not.

Steel Wage Hike May Up Other Prices

Industry Spokesmen Say New Pay Boost Should Be Passed On

NEW YORK (AP)—Will a wage-hike in the steel industry spread to other industries and start another inflation spiral?

Such spirals in postwar years sent the bread-buyer and the breadwinner into a race to keep up with each other. Wages went up generally, and prices went up generally. And the purchasing power of the dollar in the nation's stores took it on the chin.

Steel industry spokesmen say that the new wage hikes, plus the insurance and pension provision of the new union contract, would justify a raise in the price of steel products.

The question for them to decide is whether their customers will balk, in these days of fierce competition in the steel business. Some steel products have competitors among the other metals and the plastics.

And the makers of autos, household gadgets and other big users of steel may argue that it's hard enough as it is to find customers for their products at present prices—let alone trying to pass along another steel price hike in the form of higher prices on consumer goods.

Since the wage and benefit package which the steel companies have negotiated with the steel workers is the most generous of any this year in a major industry, there's a chance that other unions will push hard for similar gains.

Managements in other industries would be just as convinced as the steel companies that hikes in labor costs justify a boost in consumer products.

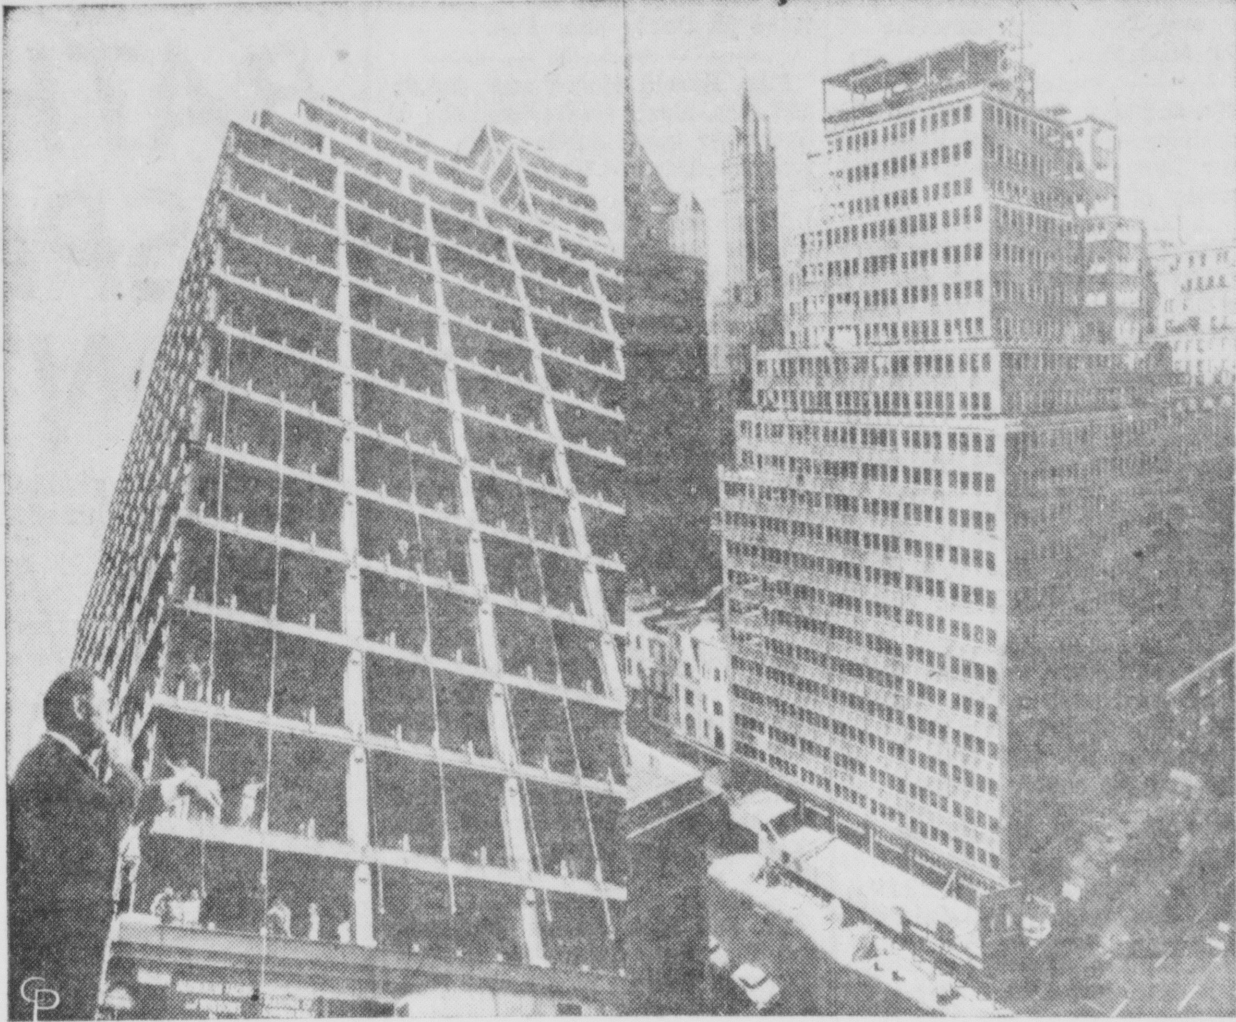

Labor leaders, on the other hand, argue that corporate profits are high enough to absorb the wage increases without raising prices.

In other postwar years wage boosts often laid the basis for another go-round of inflation.

This year, as in many other postwar years, there is also at hand that fertile seed-bed for inflation—a federal policy of easy money and easy credit.

But business observers point out today that other conditions aren't the same this year and that the chances of another inflationary spiral aren't great.

For one thing, the postwar shortages that sent customers scurrying to buy at any price are things of the past. Raising prices is one thing. Getting people to buy at a higher price is another.

STARTING AT 6 in the morning, 61 workmen accomplish a miracle of construction on a new, 22-story skyscraper at 57th street and Park avenue in New York City. In 10 hours they completed a job normally requiring two months when masonry construction is used. They covered the two walls facing the streets with 200-pound aluminum panels 4½ feet wide, 23 feet high and ¼ of an inch thick. The job took 9½ working hours.

For another thing, consumer demand is much less active now. So many durable goods have been bought and installed in the nation's homes that the appetite for them, although not sated, is certainly not as great.

And finally, this time the consumer won't be competing with the military for goods. The defense program has been stretched out and military buying is considerably less than two years ago.

This means that there are plenty of goods to be had. Price-hiking, whether justified by costs or not, will be a tricky business.

U.S. Consumer Can Assume Sunny View

Rest Of Year Expected To Provide Breaks For The Guy Who Pays Out

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer—and aren't we all?—can take a sunny view of the rest of the year.

Jobs should be a little easier to find. Wages and fringe benefits in many cases will be a little higher. Work weeks should average closer to 40 hours again—and therefore paychecks will be a little fatter. It shouldn't cost any more to live, and bargains will be found for the looking. There'll be an abundance of things to buy and salesmen eager to get your trade.

Credit will be easier and money plentiful, in the bank—meaning it'll be easier for you to get into debt. But the interest you pay should be no higher, if as high.

These prospects are based on the widely held belief that the slide from the war boom is around the bottom now, that after the usual summer doldrums, business in general will start up, noticeably, if moderately.

The layoffs that made the early months of the year a bad time for many American families are coming much less often now. The average work-week has just started to reverse itself and lengthen again.

If businessmen are right in their belief that inventory trimming is about over, a return to normal ordering practices should increase factory production this fall. This would mean you'll work longer weeks or go back to work if laid off.

Hourly wage increases granted this year in some industries will mean fatter paychecks as working weeks lengthen.

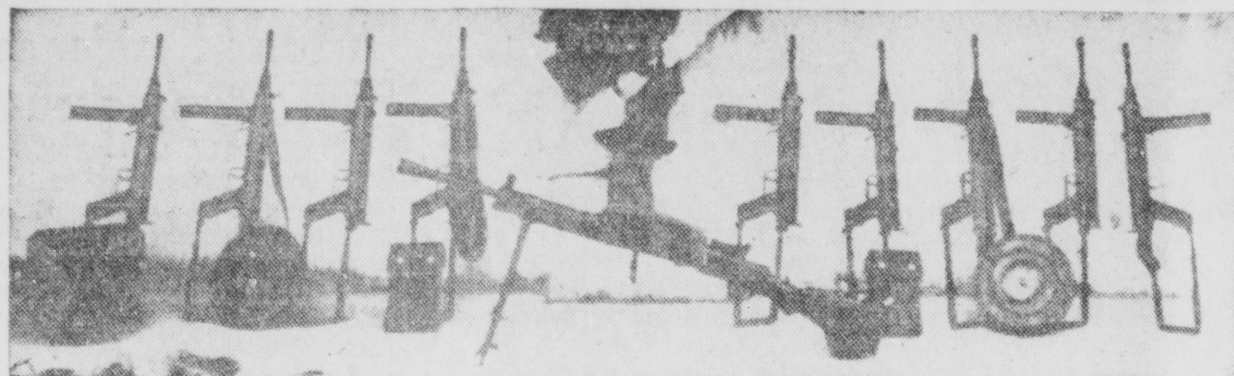

So far this year the total paid out in wages and salaries is down from a year ago. But personal income has stayed high nationally because of an increase in other forms of income. Dividend payment totals are higher, and unemployment and pension benefits have increased. Tax cuts also help sweeten take-home pay.

But your chance for further individual tax relief is dim. The federal government continues to operate at a deficit and needs tax revenue. State and local governments, moreover, need to build new roads, schools and hospitals and to meet rising labor and other service costs. They're looking for new ways to tax.

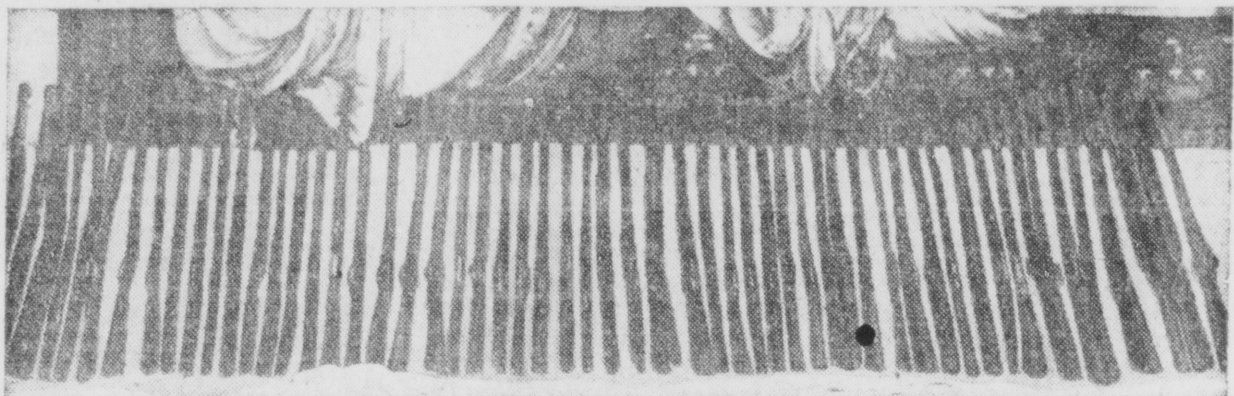

Prices are just as likely to drop as to rise. Merchants and manufacturers have plenty of goods they'd like to sell. Rising cost problems may tempt them to hike prices. Competition and fear of your reaction is more likely to keep them from it. The majority opinion in business and industry is that the present price levels will be largely unchanged at year's end.

Food will be abundant, unless the weather renege on its present promise, and foods prices will swing seasonally. More meat is coming to market and high-priced pork may take a tumble.

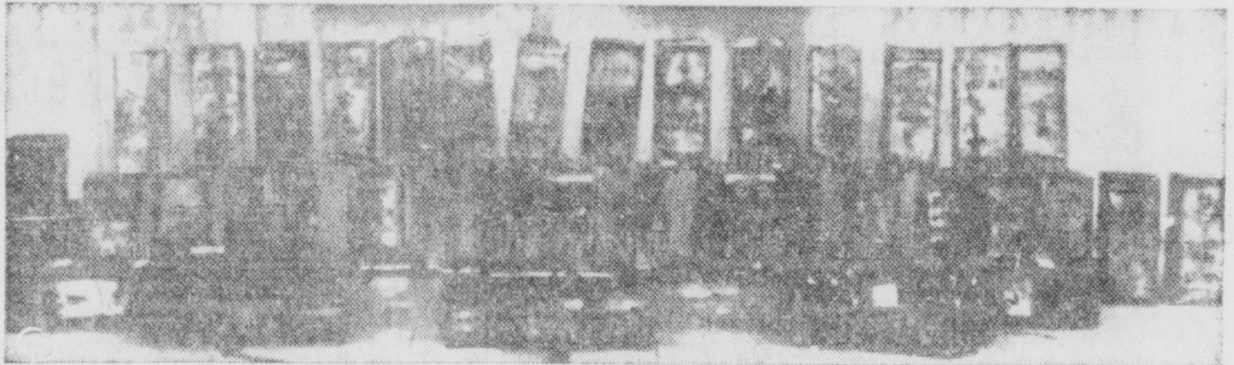

Savings have been running along this year at about the same rate as last, some folk managing to sock a little away in spite of the high cost of living. Savings rates can't be forecast—depending as they do on that intangible, how the consumer feels about spending or waiting.

Another bit of public psychology agitating the forecasters at mid-year—is the public coming into the stock market?

Brokers say there are signs that he is at last. Most of the year's upturn in stock prices has come about through purchasing by regular professionals and by the big investors, such as the industrial pension funds. But recent buying spurges have stock market followers asking if the public isn't beginning to buy now.

Part of their reasoning is based on that old marketing saying, "The public always comes in at the top."

U.S. Consumer Can Assume Sunny View

Rest Of Year Expected To Provide Breaks For The Guy Who Pays Out

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The consumer—and aren't we all?—can take a sunny view of the rest of the year.

Jobs should be a little easier to find. Wages and fringe benefits in many cases will be a little higher. Work weeks should average closer to 40 hours again—and therefore paychecks will be a little fatter. It shouldn't cost any more to live, and bargains will be found for the looking. There'll be an abundance of things to buy and salesmen eager to get your trade.

Credit will be easier and money plentiful, in the bank — meaning it'll be easier for you to get into debt. But the interest you pay should be no higher, if as high. These prospects are based on the widely held belief that the slide from the war boom is around the bottom now, that after the usual summer doldrums, business in general will start up, noticeably, if moderately.

The layoffs that made the early months of the year a bad time for many American families are coming much less often now. The average work-week has just started to reverse itself and lengthen again.

If businessmen are right in their belief that inventory trimming is about over, a return to normal ordering practices should increase factory production this fall. This would mean you'll work longer weeks or go back to work if laid off.

Hourly wage increases granted this year in some industries will mean fatter paychecks as working weeks lengthen.

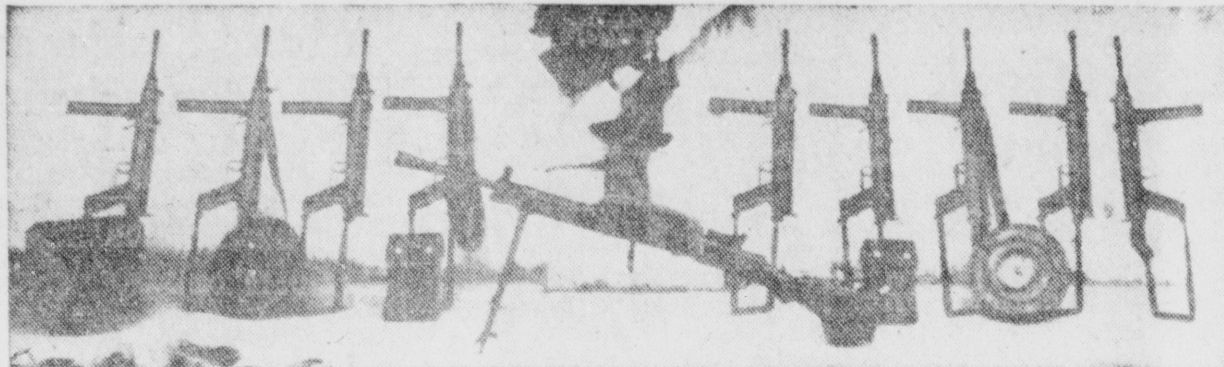

So far this year the total paid out in wages and salaries is down from a year ago. But personal income has stayed high nationally because of an increase in other forms of income. Dividend payment totals are higher, and unemployment and pension benefits have increased. Tax cuts also help sweeten take-home pay.

But your chance for further individual tax relief is dim. The federal government continues to operate at a deficit and needs tax revenue. State and local governments, moreover, need to build new roads, schools and hospitals and to meet rising labor and other service costs. They're looking for new ways to tax.

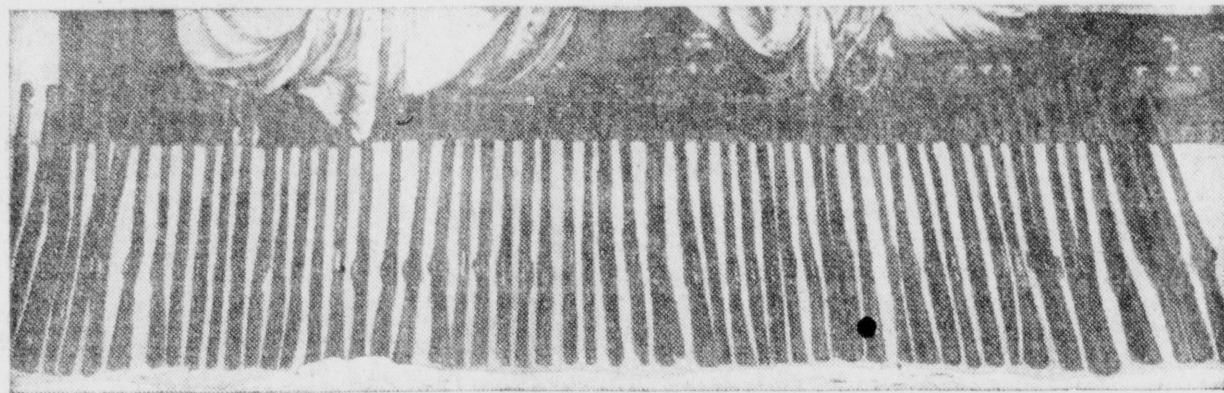

Prices are just as likely to drop as to rise. Merchants and manufacturers have plenty of goods they'd like to sell. Rising cost problems may tempt them to hike prices. Competition and fear of your reaction is more likely to keep them from it. The majority opinion in business and industry is that the present price levels will be largely unchanged at year's end.

Food will be abundant, unless the weather reneges on its present promise, and food prices will swing seasonally. More meat is coming to market and high-priced pork may take a tumble.

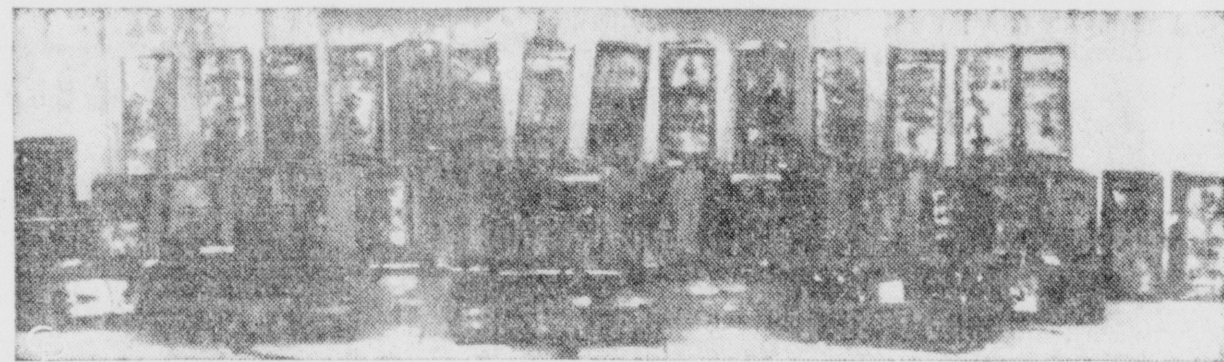

Savings have been running along this year at about the same rate as last, some folk managing to sock a little away in spite of the high cost of living. Savings rates can't be forecast — depending as they do on that intangible, how

TRANSFUSIONS FOR AILING TREES

How America's Mighty Oaks and Towering Elms May Be Saved by Injections of New 'Medicine'

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

CHICAGO—It may become a common sight throughout the country to see a tree taking a transfusion in about the way a human being receives blood plasma, as the result of the discovery of a scientist here of a treatment designed to halt the ravages of the Dutch elm phloem necrosis and oak wilt diseases which are threatening extinction of some of the most popular and valuable American shade trees.

The "convalescent" tree is fitted with a container, usually at its first fork, and receives an "intravenous" injection of about a gallon of chemical through a hose which penetrates deep into the trunk.

The "medicine," named Kemysol by its developer, Dr. Howard D. Salins of the Flax and Fiber Institute here, is said to mingle with the sap, water, and other natural fluids of the tree, and not only to eradicate the fast-moving disease which sometimes kills a tree within 12 hours, but also to confer an immunity against later attacks.

REPORTS from throughout the country indicate that the elm and oak diseases are threatening millions of trees, and in some localities are of epidemic proportions. Some tree authorities advocated the burning of all dead elm wood this spring to check the spread of a fungus that is blamed for the disease and the European elm bark beetle that carries it.

The rapid spread of the tree plague is having its impact on the lumber industry, but home owners frequently are distressed by the rapid death of a favorite shade tree. Tree surgeons have had to stand helplessly by much as do physicians who are baffled by as yet unconquered human ailments.

In the current epidemic, the elm disease often kills the trees in a few weeks, but sometimes it is a

Dr. Howard D. Salins installs a container on ailing oak which is to receive injection of "health-restoring" serum.

Salins believes that it blocks the circulatory system of the tree.

Dr. Salins, who believes that there may be relationships between human and tree ailments that should be further investigated, drew upon principles of human medical treatments in developing a solution to prevent the blocking of the circulatory system of the tree.

The result is a solution of gaseous nitrogen in a colloidal organic solvent. The opalescent, light yellow liquid appears to mix freely with the sap of the trees. Dr. Salins states that it is non-poisonous to animals or humans, and is not inflammable.

The Flax and Fiber Institute has prepared test portions of the liquid which is given much as in blood transfusions, from a hose attached to a can. The tip of the tubing is placed in a hole bored into the crotch of the tree, and the solution flows in by gravity.

THE FORMULA is varied, according to Dr. Salins, for the oaks and elms so as to be compatible with the tree sap and protoplasm.

The new tree "wonder drug" is believed to act as a catalyst, and to serve as a solvent which reverses the clotting process in the sap. Each tree absorbs about a gallon, sometimes as rapidly as within 24 hours.

In the trees treated experimentally near here, upon the completion of the "transfusions" they not only had recovered but apparently a complete reversal had taken place, the infection having cleared up and an immunity against further attacks having been established which may be permanent.

Dr. Salins reports also that his studies indicate that healthy trees may be "vaccinated" and protected for at least a year against invasions of the insects and virus, and that at last a basis for halting the plagues ravaging the forests throughout the country may have been found.

slow death. In Dutch elm disease, the leaves wilt, turn yellow or dry and fall off. It may start on a branch or two and then spread. In elm phloem necrosis the entire top may be blighted.

LATER the roots deteriorate. In oak wilt there is a rapid wilting of the leaves, followed by the death of the tree in from 12 hours to seven days after the initial attack.

Tree experts believe that the disease in oak trees is contagious and that other trees may be exposed. The cause still is regarded as something of a mystery, but a virus usually is blamed, and Dr.

TRANSFUSIONS FOR AILING TREES

How America's Mighty Oaks and Towering Elms May Be Saved by Injections of New 'Medicine'

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

CHICAGO—It may become a common sight throughout the country to see a tree taking a transfusion in about the way a human being receives blood plasma, as the result of the discovery of a scientist here of a treatment designed to halt the ravages of the Dutch elm phloem necrosis and oak wilt diseases which are threatening extinction of some of the most popular and valuable American shade trees.

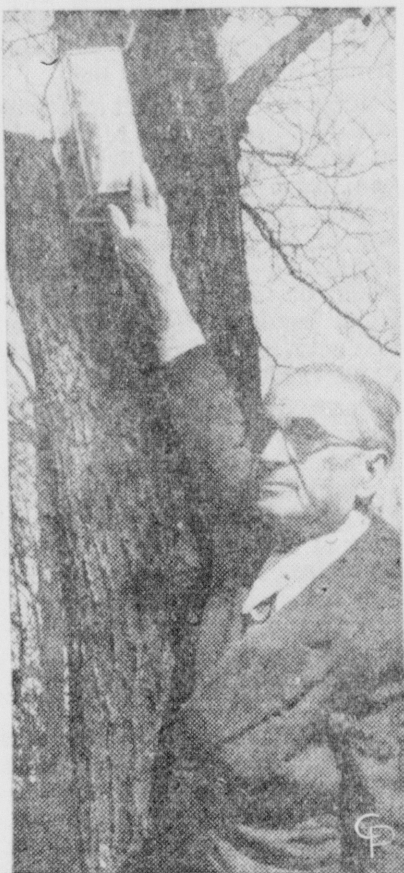

The "convalescent" tree is fitted with a container, usually at its first fork, and receives an "intravenous" injection of about a gallon of chemical through a hose which penetrates deep into the trunk.

The "medicine," named Kemysol by its developer, Dr. Howard D. Salins of the Flax and Fiber Institute here, is said to mingle with the sap, water, and other natural fluids of the tree, and not only to eradicate the fast-moving disease which sometimes kills a tree within 12 hours, but also to confer an immunity against later attacks.

REPORTS from throughout the country indicate that the elm and oak diseases are threatening millions of trees, and in some localities are of epidemic proportions. Some tree authorities advocated the burning of all dead elm wood this spring to check the spread of a fungus that is blamed for the disease and the European elm bark beetle that carries it.

The rapid spread of the tree plague is having its impact on the lumber industry, but home owners frequently are distressed by the rapid death of a favorite shade tree. Tree surgeons have had to stand helplessly by much as do physicians who are baffled by as yet unconquered human ailments.

In the current epidemic, the elm disease often kills the trees in a few weeks, but sometimes it is a slow death. In Dutch elm disease, the leaves wilt, turn yellow or dry and fall off. It may start on a branch or two and then spread. In elm phloem necrosis the entire top may be blighted.

LATER the roots deteriorate. In oak wilt there is a rapid wilting of the leaves, followed by the death of the tree in from 12 hours to seven days after the initial attack. Tree experts believe that the disease in oak trees is contagious and that other trees may be exposed. The cause still is regarded as something of a mystery, but a virus usually is blamed, and Dr.

Salins believes that it blocks the circulatory system of the tree.

Dr. Salins, who believes that there may be relationships between human and tree ailments that should be further investigated, drew upon principles of human medical treatments in developing a solution to prevent the blocking of the circulatory system of the tree.

The result is a solution of gaseous nitrogen in a colloidal organic solvent. The opalescent, light yellow liquid appears to mix freely with the sap of the trees. Dr. Salins states that it is non-poisonous to animals or humans, and is not inflammable.

The Flax and Fiber Institute has prepared test portions of the liquid which is given much as in blood transfusions, from a hose attached to a can. The tip of the tubing is placed in a hole bored into the crotch of the tree, and the solution flows in by gravity.

THE FORMULA is varied, according to Dr. Salins, for the oaks and elms so as to be compatible with the tree sap and protoplasm. The new tree "wonder drug" is believed to act as a catalyst, and to serve as a solvent which reverses the clotting process in the sap. Each tree absorbs about a gallon, sometimes as rapidly as within 24 hours.

In the trees treated experimentally near here, upon the completion of the "transfusions" they not only had recovered but apparently a complete reversal had taken place, the infection having cleared up and an immunity against further attacks having been established which may be permanent.

Dr. Salins reports also that his studies indicate that healthy trees may be "vaccinated" and protected for at least a year against incursions of the insects and virus, and that at last a basis for halting the plagues ravaging the forests throughout the country may have been found.

Hearing Scheduled In Plane Accident

COLUMBUS (AP)—A public hearing on the Sunday collision of a Navy plane and an American

Ohio Dems Plan Radio-TV Program

COLUMBUS (AP)—A $25,000 radio and television program is under tentative approval by Democratic candidates for state offices.

Cleveland Sending Train To Korea

CLEVELAND (AP)—A "greater Cleveland train for Korea" was dedicated by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze yesterday in ceremonies at the Erie Railroad Depot.

Two locomotives, four flat cars—on each of which was a bus donated by Central Greyhound Lines—and three freight cars made up the train. The equipment was turned over to the American-Korean Foundation.

One of the locomotives, donated by Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, bore a sign saying eight other locomotives were being sent to Korea by the C & O.

Downpour Halts Critical Fray As GE Trails

Stillman Morrison, manager of the General Electric team in the "kid baseball" County League, is denying with a grin that he has any particular drag with the weather man.

In one of the most important games of the season Wednesday night at Ted Lewis Park, the GE boys were trailing the powerful Ashville Irwins, 3-0, when a sudden downpour soaked the diamond and halted action for the night. Umpire Dick Wellington ruled play couldn't be resumed after rain fell "like a duck pond" while two men were out in the bottom of the second inning.

A crowd well above the average was on hand for the critical battle, and fans as well as players shared in the soaking. A definite new date for the game will be announced later.

Morrison had grief in the GE camp even before play began. His players had difficulty in reporting on time, and his ace hurler, Jim McConnell, had been laid low earlier in the day by paint fumes. The lean right-hander was still sick when he took the mound.

THE GE PILOT likewise had reason to feel groggy when his boys mixed a bit of befuddled defense with two hits in the first to give Ashville a three-run edge—a discouraging margin with Fireball Jerry Riegel on the mound for the Irwins and looking top class.

After GE went down in order to open the game, Larry Fullen walked and was forced at second by Neal. It was nearly a Bennington-to-Frazier-to-Reck twin-killing but the runner was safe at first. Riegel banged a single through the box, putting men on first and third.

Although it was a clean-cut hit, Frazier nearly got the ball for a thriller stop with a diving try.

One run came in when a cut-off throw to second didn't pan out. Hutchison beat out a gorgeous bunt for a hit and soon moved to second, putting men on second and third. And on a fielder's choice that failed to click, both of them tallied. Fullen was on base by virtue of a single with two down in the bottom of the second when the downpour made it no-game.

Yankee Girls Dominate Play At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Four American women were keeping the Stars and Stripes boldly flying at Wimbledon today as they clashed in the semifinals of the All-England Women's Championships—with all the betting money placed Two former Wimbledon champions, Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly.

It will be 19-year-old Ken Rosewall of Australia against Jaroslav Drobný, Czech-born star now living in Egypt, tomorrow in the men's singles final.

Rosewall, second-seeded, knocked out top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, and Drobný eliminated Budge Patty of Los Angeles 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7 yesterday.

Little Mo from San Diego, Calif., plays Mrs. Betty Pratt of South Orange, N. J., in one semifinal. Two former Wimbledon champions, Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., meet in the other.

The finals will be played Saturday. Miss Connolly, looking for her third straight championship, is ranked first with Miss Hart seeded second. Both girls fought it out for the championship last year.

Mrs. Pratt, seeded eighth, scored the only upset in the women's division by eliminating Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, in three sets in the quarter-finals.

Holiday Fishing In Ohio Slated To Be Only Fair

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fishing in Ohio will be fair this weekend with lakes and streams clearing up, Ohio's Division of Wildlife says. Lake Erie fishing, however, is expected to be fair to poor.

Conditions by areas: Northwestern—Crappies and catfish being taken in Lake St. Marys and weekend outlook is fair. Large-mouth bass hitting in East Harbor. Sheephead fishing good in streams flowing into Lake Erie.

Southeastern—Bass and bluegill fishing good in lakes. Stream fishing improving with takes of small-mouth bass and bullheads reported. Lake fishing fair.

Southwestern—With the exception of Cowan and Indian lakes, fishing has not been good.

Circleville Track To Close 3 Weeks

Four City Racing Club announced Thursday that Circleville Speedway, at the Fair Grounds, would close for approximately three weeks. This is for remodeling and repaving the grounds and track.

The track will be improved by the addition of a new lighting system, according to club publicist Doc Lemon. He also said a number of suggestions have been put to the Fair Board concerning the track.

A special re-opening show will be announced soon under sponsorship of the Circleville Jaycees. This will be a benefit show for the new grandstand building fund.

Therefore, there will be no stock car racing at Circleville Speedway Thursday and none until further notice.

Indians Hike League Lead To 3 Games

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only a Chicago White Sox sweep of the four-game series opening here tomorrow night can dislodge the Cleveland Indians from first place by July 4.

The season isn't quite half over by Independence Day, but seven times out of 10, the records show, the team in first on July 4 cops the pennant.

The Tribe's 2-0 victory in Baltimore last night, Mike Garcia's fourth shutout of the season, came after Chicago and New York lost day games and boosted Cleveland's first-place margin to three over Chicago and four over New York.

Last night's triumph was characteristic of the 1954 Indians' play—good pitching, loose infielding, and long-ball hitting.

Garcia, posting his 10th victory against five losses, permitted only four singles, two by lead-off man Cal Abrams. He didn't walk a man and he struck out three.

An error by Al Rosen allowed a runner to reach first in the sixth, and shortstop George Strickland bobbled a grounder and threw wild for two errors on one play in the seventh. Of 67 Cleveland errors so far this season, Strickland has 18, second baseman Bob Avila 10 and Rosen eight.

Idle today, the Indians will send Early Wynn (9-6) and Bob Feller (4-1) to the mound for tomorrow's twilight twin bill with Chicago. The White Sox have won five of eight games with the Tribe.

Another Close One Goes To Doc McMillen

COLUMBUS (AP)—Another tight victory was scored at Hilliards Raceway last night by William (Doc) McMillen of London when he drove Cyrus Chief from fourth position in the stretch to a close win in the seventh race.

The four-year-old bay was timed at 2:11.4 for the featured 23 conditioned pace.

McMillen's latest victory (he drove Ruling Way to a photo finish in the fifth event—Tuesday night) places him second in point standings at the track this season.

Points are counted on a 5-3-2 basis for win, place and show. McMillen has 79 compared to Bob Seabrook of Urbana with 83 points. Top Driver Bill Current of Wilmington, with 12 victories, is third in point standings with 69.

Downpour Halts Critical Fray As GE Trails

Stillman Morrison, manager of the General Electric team in the "kid baseball" County League, is denying with a grin that he has any particular drag with the weather man.

In one of the most important games of the season Wednesday night at Ted Lewis Park, the GE boys were trailing the powerful Asheville Irwins, 3-0, when a sudden downpour soaked the diamond and halted action for the night. Umpire Dick Wellington ruled play couldn't be resumed after rain fell "like a duck pond" while two men were out in the bottom of the second inning.

A crowd well above the average was on hand for the critical battle, and fans as well as players shared in the soaking. A definite new date for the game will be announced later.

Morrison had grief in the GE camp even before play began. His players had difficulty in reporting on time, and his ace hurler, Jim McConnell, had been laid low earlier in the day by pain fumes. The lean right-hander was still sick when he took the mound.

THE GE PILOT likewise had reason to feel groggy when his boys mixed a bit of befuddled defense with two hits in the first to give Asheville a three-run edge—a discouraging margin with Fireball Jerry Riegel on the mound for the Irwins and looking top class.

After GE went down in order to open the game, Larry Fullen walked and was forced at second by Neal. It was nearly a Bennington to Frazier-to-Beck twin-killing but the runner was safe at first. Riegel banged a single through the box, putting men on first and third.

Although it was a clean-cut hit, Frazier nearly got the ball for a thriller stop with a diving try.

One run came in when a cut-off throw to second didn't pan out. Hutchison beat out a gorgeous bunt for a hit and soon moved to second, putting men on second and third. And on a fielder's choice that failed to click, both of them tallied. Fullen was on base by virtue of a single with two down in the bottom of the second when the downpour made it no-game.

WIMBLEDON, England (P)—Four American women were keeping the Stars and Stripes boldly flying at Wimbledon today as they clashed in the semifinals of the All-England Women's Championships—with all the betting money placed Two former Wimbledon champions, Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly.

It will be 19-year-old Ken Rosewall of Australia against Jaroslav Drobny, Czech-born star now living in Egypt, tomorrow in the men's singles final.

Rosewall, second-seeded, knocked out top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, and Drobny eliminated Budge Patty of Los Angeles 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 9-7 yesterday.

Little Mo from San Diego, Calif., plays Mrs. Betty Pratt of South Orange, N. J., in one semifinal. Two former Wimbledon champions, Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., meet in the other. The finals will be played Saturday.

Miss Connolly, looking for her third straight championship, is ranked first with Miss Hart seeded second. Both girls fought it out for the championship last year.

Mrs. Pratt, seeded eighth, scored the only upset in the women's division by eliminating Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, in three sets in the quarter-finals.

Indians Hike League Lead To 3 Games

CLEVELAND (P)—Only a Chicago White Sox sweep of the four-game series opening here tomorrow night can dislodge the Cleveland Indians from first place by July 4.

The season isn't quite half over by Independence Day, but seven times out of 10, the records show, the team in first on July 4 cops the pennant.

The Tribe's 2-0 victory in Baltimore last night, Mike Garcia's fourth shutout of the season, came after Chicago and New York lost day games and boosted Cleveland's first-place margin to three over Chicago and four over New York.

Last night's triumph was characteristic of the 1954 Indians' play—good pitching, loose infielding, and long-ball hitting.

Garcia, posting his 10th victory against five losses, permitted only four singles, two by lead-off man Cal Abrams. He didn't walk a man and he struck out three.

An error by Al Rosen allowed a runner to reach first in the sixth, and shortstop George Strickland bobbled a grounder and threw wild for two errors on one play in the seventh. Of 67 Cleveland errors so far this season, Strickland has 18, second baseman Bob Avila 10 and Rosen eight.

Idle today, the Indians will send Early Wynn (9-6) and Bob Feller (4-1) to the mound for tomorrow's twilight twin bill with Chicago. The White Sox have won five of eight games with the Tribe.

Another Close One Goes To Doc McMillen

COLUMBUS (P)—Another tight victory was scored at Hilliards Raceway last night by William (Doc) McMillen of London when he drove Cyrus Chief from fourth position in the stretch to a close win in the seventh race.

The four-year-old bay was timed at 2:11.4 for the featured 23 conditioned pace.

McMillen's latest victory (he drove Ruling Way to a photo finish in the fifth event—Tuesday night) places him second in point standings at the track this season.

Points are counted on a 5-3-2 basis for win, place and show.

McMillen has 79 compared to Bob Seabrook of Urbana with 83 points. Top Driver Bill Current of Wilmington, with 12 victories, is third in point standings with 69.

Rains Foul Up Tennis Schedule

CINCINNATI (P)—They'll have to do some cramming of the schedule today at the 35th annual Tri-State tennis tournament.

Rain interrupted yesterday's program but tournament officials hoped to get caught up today.

Two second-round matches remain to be played in men's singles. In one of them John Cranston was leading Louis Ayala of Santiago, Chile, 4-3, in the first set when rain stopped proceedings. In the other, top-seeded Straight Clark of Philadelphia will meet Tom Price of Cincinnati.

Judge Penalizes OSU Grid Star

CLEVELAND (P)—Judge Stephen H. Hazelwood, who was a college football referee for some 30 years, has blown the whistle on Tom Hague, an end on the 1953 Ohio State University team.

Hague, 21, pleaded guilty to intoxication and disorderly conduct in Lakewood Municipal Court and the judge fined him $41 and told him to wash off a police car.

The judge ordered the washing after learning the OSU student spat on the car.

The end was arrested June 25 after a bachelor party honoring his brother Jim.

Sport Briefs

By The Associated Press

The change of uniforms from Baltimore to Cleveland has done Vic Wertz a lot of good. Vic batted only .202 for the Orioles before they dealt him to the Tribe early in June. With the Indians, Wertz is hitting .305 on 18 hits in 59 trips.

A midget race car crashed into a wall at Cincinnati Race Bowl last night and driver Johnny Key, 30, of Anderson, Ind., was killed.

John Andrew Bickel, 29, has been named football coach at Piqua Central High School replacing Alson Scrivner who resigned. Bickel coached at Memorial High School, St. Marys.

Art (Golden Boy) Aragon, a little puzzled in a new role as the underdog, and Vince Martinez, a quietly confident young man from New Jersey, tie into each other for 10 rounds or less tonight in Hollywood.

The first major leaguer to hit three home runs in one game was Adrian C. (Pop) Anson of the Chicago Cubs in 1884.

Mims And Dykes Battle To Draw

WASHINGTON (P)—Middleweights Holly Mims and Bobby Dykes, both seeking a shot at the crown, sea-sawed their way last night to a 10-round draw.

Mims, Washington, D. C.'s second ranked contender for the world title held by Bobo Olson, looked strong in the middle rounds when he jarred Dykes with overhand right-hand punches.

Dykes, Miami, Fla., veteran, piled up a big lead in the early rounds by clicking lefts and rights at Mims, then making the Washington puncher come after him instead of mixing it with him any where near the ropes.

Motorists Warned On Following Emergency Vehicle On Call

Drivers Found Blocking Route Of Ambulances

State Patrol Points To Law Which Says $50 Fine Available

Morbid curiosity may cost some motorists money! For a very bad situation emphasized itself Saturday night, according to the State Patrol here.

Patrolman Bob Greene referred to an accident involving two cars in which six people were injured. The accident occurred four miles south of Circleville on Route 23.

He said that so many curiosity seekers, attracted by sirens from three ambulances and cruisers blocked the accident scene so badly that it was difficult to get the ambulances turned around and headed back to Berger Hospital.

Patrolman Greene said there was a solid string of motorists following the ambulances back into the city. He said also that the handling of traffic became a very difficult chore.

GREENE added that this was not the first time this sort of thing had happened. He said, however, that this time the situation got so bad that something has to be done now.

His remarks were emphasized by State Patrolmen Gene Miller and Ray Hoylman and Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff, all of whom were on the scene. Greene cited a section from the Ohio Revised Code:

"4511.72 — Following an emergency vehicle prohibited. . . . The driver of any vehicle, other than an emergency vehicle on official business, shall not follow any emergency vehicle traveling in response to an alarm closer than 500 feet. . . . First offense is punishable by a fine of not more than $50.

Deputy Radcliff pointed out another incident. In early April, he said, there was an accident at Dead Man's Crossing at which he and the three State Patrolmen were also. Motorists lined up on all sides of the road so that some cars had to be moved before an ambulance and a wrecker could approach close enough to the wreck, the deputy explained.

"We're not threatening drivers in any way," Patrolman Greene remarked. "We are strictly out for the safety of the motorist. If an ambulance is needed, we want it to get to the scene and then back to the hospital, if necessary, in the quickest possible time.

"HOWEVER, if the situation does continue, we want motorists to know there is a law covering the following of an emergency vehicle. And if we find any flagrant violations we may be forced to give out tickets."

There were several remarks to the effect that half of the population of the southern end of Circleville must have turned out to see the Saturday crash. Despite the time, 11:30 p. m., officers noted many onlookers still wearing pajamas and the like.

Police added that their phone was kept extremely busy all night answering inquiries concerning the crash in which luckily, no one was seriously hurt.

Chicago Leader Still Missing

CHICAGO (AP)—William C. Groehl, a civic leader, was given two letters by his wife to mail when he left his suburban Park Ridge home for his office six days ago.

One of the letters arrived at its destination and has been accounted for, but not Groehl.

The 59-year-old executive secretary of the Park Ridge Chamber of Commerce, who vanished without a trace, is still missing.

He called his secretary 10 minutes after he left his home to say he would be late because he planned to visit some merchants.

Police say they can't find any merchant who saw him that morning. They did find his car, however, parked near his office.

TV Readies Series To Take Folks On Voyage To Mars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want a trip to Mars? Walt Disney will take you there on TV this fall.

The amazing Mr. Disney, whose wonders never cease, is preparing a TV series called "Disneyland" for the ABC network. A monthly feature will be "The World of Tomorrow," and one of the subjects will show the preparation and actual flight to Mars.

The red planet is a timely topic, since it is veering close enough to the earth this month for astronomers to get their best squirt at it.

To conduct this TV trip to Mars, Disney has hired Willy Ley, who knows as much about space travel as any human being. He formed a society for space travel in his native Germany in 1927, the same year Lindbergh made headlines with an earthly flight. He came to this country in 1935 and continued advocating flight into space by writing books and articles.

"A flight to Mars?" asks Ley in Germanic tones. "Of course it is possible. All it takes is time and money."

It could happen in 25 years, he said. Or at least 25 years after the decision is made to attempt the project. He figures it would take a decade to establish the space stations, which are essential before the full trip can be attempted.

"Then it would be another 15 years to build and perfect the rocket to travel to Mars," he said.

What would Mars be like?

"It would probably be three quarters desert, with very little water. The days would be pleasant—around 75 degrees in summer. But the nights would be fantastically cold. The complete day is only a little longer than ours—about 24 hours and 37½ minutes."

How would humans exist on Mars?

"They would have to use space suits, of course, because there is no air on the planet. I don't think they would have to be weighted; that has been overstressed. A man would weigh one third less on Mars, but I think he could soon adjust to that."

Louisiana is sometimes called the "Pelican state."

Candidate Runs Two-Bit Campaign

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore grocer Harry Kemper, who lost the Democratic nomination for state comptroller Monday by almost 150,000 votes, acknowledges he ran a two-bit campaign.

He said his total campaign expense was 25 cents — for stamps. Kemper polled about 33,000 votes, to about 180,000 for Comptroller J. Millard Tawes.

Farmer Income Drops 4 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices farmers received for their products

dropped 4 per cent between mid-May and mid-June, but the decline was felt largely by commodities not directly involved in the congressional battle over farm price supports.

Most of the decline in the farm price index announced yesterday reflected a decrease of about 17 per cent in prices of hogs and an over-all decrease of 10 per cent in prices of all meat animals. Prices of meat animals are not supported by the government.

Candidate Runs Two-Bit Campaign

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore grocer Harry Kemper, who lost the Democratic nomination for state comptroller Monday by almost 150,000 votes, acknowledges he ran a two-bit campaign.

He said his total campaign expense was 25 cents — for stamps.

Kemper polled about 33,000 votes, to about 180,000 for Comptroller J. Millard Tawes.

Farmer Income Drops 4 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices farmers received for their products

dropped 4 per cent between mid-May and mid-June, but the decline was felt largely by commodities not directly involved in the congressional battle over farm price supports.

Most of the decline in the farm price index announced yesterday reflected a decrease of about 17 per cent in prices of hogs and an over-all decrease of 10 per cent in prices of all meat animals. Prices of meat animals are not supported by the government.
